Fires Add To Woes In Alaskan Flood

10,000 Carried To Safety

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP) — Helicopters and river boats, moving past dangling power lines, carried 10,000 Alaskans to safety from this city nine feet deep in floodwater, as the danger of fire posed a new element of disaster today.

Three persons were known dead in the flood that Gov. Walter J. Hickel said would have greater impact on the state than the Good Friday earthquake of March 1964. "Every piece of property has been touched," he said.

Firefighters, blocked by deep and swift running water, watched helplessly as six buildings burned in the downtown area Tuesday. Mayor H.A. "Red" Boucher warned—"If anything major breaks out we'd need a fireboat to fight it and Fairbanks doesn't have a fireboat."

Weather forecasters predicted more rain late today as the Chena River, which loops through this city of 30,000, ran up to nine feet deep in the heart of the downtown business district, spilling the waters that it accumulated during four days of rain without letup.

Even if there was no more rain, one forecaster said, it would take days for the river just to return to the flood level.

Planes brought rations, medicine, typhoid serum for 40,000 people, and federal disaster and rescue personnel including doctors, nurses and Red Cross workers. The Army set up water purification units and handed out field rations to refugees.

The mayor, who estimated total damage starting at $150 to $200 million, said about 10,000 people were moved to evacuation centers by the Alaska National Guard, Army and civilian helicopters and boats manned by civilian, National Guardsmen and police.

Hickel said mass evacuation of the city was being considered, "because there will be no way to feed or house all of the residents" if they remain where they are.

But immediate mass evacuation was thought impossible because all roads and railroads were blocked by the flood. Only Airport remained open for emergency commercial and military flights.

The only telephone communication with the city was to a heavily sandbagged Alaska communications system building, where disaster headquarters were set up.

Boucher estimated that 75 per cent of the business establishments suffered major damage. Only a few homes were spared heavy damage, and some were reported crumbling from the pressure of the surging floodwaters.

"It's terrible! It's terrible!" Hickel kept repeating after a tour of the downtown area with the mayor late Tuesday. "I can't believe it! I just can't believe it!" Boucher added.

Hickel and Boucher narrowly missed being swept away when a heavy Army halftrack in which they were riding was tossed by the swift current through a downtown street.

A federal team headed for Fairbanks to inspect the city's needs at the direction of President Johnson.

Hickel asked the President Tuesday to take steps necessary to declare Fairbanks and nearby Nenana, also hard hit by the flooding Nenana and Tanana rivers, as federal disaster areas.

Both the governor and Boucher emphasized a need for quick action because of approaching winter, when temperaturs dip to more than 60 degrees below zero.

"The critical period of freeze-up is only some 60 days away," said Boucher.

"We're going to need help—

House Committee Approves Delay In Cities' Payments

By WILLIAM V. MERRIMAN
Review Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS, Ohio—A $99,000 obligation hanging over East Liverpool's 1968 fiscal operations and $12,000 over Wellsville's budget will be lifted for one year if the Ohio General Assembly enacts a bill speeded through a House committee Tuesday.

Legislation okayed 9-1 by the House State Government Committee would delay until Jan. 1, 1969, initial payments on accrued liability to the state's underfunded police and fireman's pension fund.

East Liverpool was found by actuaries to be $1.1 million in the red and Wellsville $143,000.

The cities then would be required to pay 2 per cent of their debts in 1969. Payments would increase 1 per cent in subsequent years to a limit of 5 per cent in 1972 and 5 per cent for the next 55 years.

Comparable to a home mortgage, part of the payments would go for interest and the balance to principal. Under this arrangement, East Liverpool would owe $22,000 in 1969.

The proposal was termed by Committee Chairman Ralph Cole Jr., R-Hardin, a "compromise" between a two - year moratorium on payments and present law requiring a 9 per cent payment next January.

Though intended as a temporary answer while the legislative service commission studies alternatives, the bill, in Cole's words, has "the potential of being a permanent solution."

The measure further requires the condition of the fund to be reported every two years to the legislature.

Cole stressed the proposed legislation would not prevent a municipality from repaying its debt in less than the 60 years.

Each municipality had its own police and firemen's pension fund until the legislature two years ago ordered the financially - troubled local funds consolidated into a state fund. But when the local funds were turned over to the state, a shortage of $420 million was found.

Pacific Commander Gives Testimony

More Bombing Of North Seen Way To Viet Victory

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's Vietnam critics and backers see in testinony by the U.S. Pacific commander the emergence of a new administration position that the conflict can be won only through heavier bombing of the North.

Critics attacked what they viewed as a policy shift ending hopes for a negotiated settlement, while backers called it more likely to make North Vietnam sue for peace.

Johnson remained publicly uncommitted on Adm. U.S. Grant Sharp's contention the ground war in the South is defensive in nature and on the argument that heavier bombing offers the best chance of getting North Vietnam to sue for peace.

But the release of testimony by Sharp that the war must be won by air attacks on enemy supply and infiltration targets convinced many senators that his views had full White House approval.

Chairman John Stennis, D-Miss., made public Tuesday testimony taken in a closed session of his Senate preparedness subcommittee Aug. 9 in which the admiral said:

"We must continue these operations in the North. They are the offensive element of our strategy. No war is ever brought to a successful conclusion by defensive action alone."

Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said release of Sharp's full testimony by the Pentagon after the subcommittee had rejected a previous heavily-censored version indicated the administration is taking the position the war can be ended only by bombing the North.

"This evidently means more and bigger bombings, precluding any possibility of a lull which might invite any offer for negotiations," Fulbright said.

In the House, Rep. Olin E. Teague, D-Tex., said Fulbright should apologize for his previous declaration that bombings near Red China were "stupid" and invited Chinese intervention.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., another severe critic of Johnson's policies, said in an interview: "The Pentagon is taking over foreign policy." "We are near a military takeover," he said. "Despite the charades of democracy with which they clothe it, a military takeover is not impossible in this country."

Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., long-time critic of Johnson's handling of the war, said he thinks the bombings have not been effective. He added: "I

Booby Traps Kill 8 Marines, Wound 10 Near Da Nang

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese troops, supported by U.S. air and ground forces, reported today killing 98 Communist soldiers in two sharp clashes, one in the Mekong Delta and one 270 miles north of Saigon.

One U.S. soldier was killed and the Vietnamese suffered light casualties, a military spokesman said.

Meanwhile, Communist booby traps killed eight Marines and wounded 10 south of Da Nang Tuesday and three terrorist attacks were reported. One wounded six American civilian workers.

Military officials have predicted a sharp rise in Viet Cong terriorism in the next few weeks aimed at disrupting South Vitnam's presidential election Sept. 3.

In the air war, as Air Force pilots concentrated again on truck convoys, the Air Force issued a report that a total of 541 enemy trucks have been destroyed or damaged in the first 15 days of August, surpassing the total of 532 for the entire month of July.

Heavy overcasts limited Tuesday's air strikes to targets in the panhandle region running from south of Hanoi to the 17th parallel that separates North and South Vietnam. Targets in the 161 missions included the truck convoys, military storage areas, a thermal power plant and enemy boats.

Ground fighting broke out in the delta 90 miles southwest of Saigon today just after a multi-battalion force of South Vietnamese infantry units, rangers, militiamen and armored personnel carriers kicked off a search operation. A South

Near Agreement On Others

Major Bills Forged Out By Assembly Committees

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — House and Senate committees have forged out major bills and neared agreement on others in a burst of speed seldom seen in Ohio's legislative halls.

The flurry of activity left little doubt Tuesday night that the lawmakers are dead serious in their efforts to wind up major business for an extended recess beginning about Aug. 25.

In rapid fire order Tuesday, there were these developments:

— The House Taxation Committee recommended passage of a package of permissive tax bills for counties and it was rushed along to the Rules Committee which scheduled a floor vote Thursday.

— The Rules Committee placed on the lower chamber's calendar for the same day an embattled measure that would permit Sunday sale of liquor by holders of special $2,500 licenses.

— House Speaker Charles F. Kurfess R - 4 Wood announced after a lengthy Republican caucus there is little doubt the House and Senate will come to agreement on a bipartisan apportionment plan for the November ballot.

— Kurfess said House amendments are being readied for the administration's tax hike-education bill to raise $300 million in additional funds for education. They may include revisions in sales tax brackets proposed by the Senate, the speaker said.

— A major bill revising Ohio's banking laws finally emerged from the House Insurance and Financial Institutions Committee after lengthy hearings. The committee defeated amendments to the Senate-approved measure which would have prohibited the controversial practices of voting of shares held in trust and cumulative voting of shares by minority stockholders.

— The Senate Ways and Means Committee recommended passage of the House-passed bill to strengthen Ohio's water pollution laws.

— A bill giving municipalities a one - year moratorium until 1969 to begin payments of accrued liabilities into the new police and firemen's pension fund was approved by the House State Government Committee. Phased-out programs in local subdivisions owe an estimated $420 million to the state fund but would have 60 years to pay.

In addition to the permissive tax bill, the House Taxation Committee recommended passage of a bill providing personal property tax relief for farmers and merchants. Fifty per cent of the tax paid by farmers would be eliminated in six years and the 70 per cent valuation base on business inventories

Steelworkers Strike Firm At Youngstown

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — About 1,100 United Steelworkers struck the John Van Huffle Tube Co. at midnight Tuesday, protesting certain job assignments, a spokesman said.

The company, which produces a variety of steel tubing, was idle today, and members of USW Local 1361 had set up picket lines at plant entrances.

A company spokesman termed the work stoppage a wildcat strike.

Union officials said they would seek a meeting with management in an attempt to settle the dispute.

Hunt Pressed In Canada For Killer Of 9 In Family

SHELL LAKE, Sask. (AP) — Royal Canadian Mounted Police set up roadblocks and turned bloodhounds loose in Saskatchewan farm country today as they pressed the search for the killer of nine members of a Canadian family.

Only a 4-year-old girl was spared in the James Peterson farm house near Shell Lake Tuesday. Bullets from a .22-caliber weapon killed Peterson, 47, his wife Evelyn, 42, and seven of their eight children.

Storekeeper Earl Dallan of Shell Lake said the family was well liked and hadn't "an enemy in the world."

Coroner Dr. Calvin S. Lambert of Leoville said, "I don't think there was a suicide", because no weapon was found. Police inspector Brian Sawyer said there was no apparent motive for the slayings.

"Mounties" set up roadblocks and were searching the surrounding bush with dogs, Sawyer said, and a search party of 250 persons was "ready to go."

The massacre was discovered by W.J. Lange, a neighbor of the Petersons, when Lange came to the one-story farmhouse to seek help with his haying. Lange found 4-year-old Phyllis unharmed in bed with two of her dead sisters.

Lange said he opened the door of the Peterson home when his knock went unanswered, adding that he thought he would kid Peterson about sleeping so late. Then Lange spotted Peterson's body by the kitchen door. The house had not been ransacked.

Lange found the keys to Peterson's 1957 station wagon and drove to Shell Lake four miles away to call police.

Dr. Lambert said all the victims had been shot with a .22-caliber gun. Police found

OGDEN, Utah (AP) — Two 13-year-old boys are finding out how long it takes to inflate 132 automobile tires with a hand air pump.

Caucus Set Next Tuesday

Wellsville Council To Air Tax, Fire, Police Needs

Wellsville Council will hold a caucus session next Tuesday night to discuss the possibility of a city tax and to decide if a levy should be placed on the Nov. 7 ballot to raise funds for the purchase of a new fire truck, and perhaps a new fire station

The legislators will meet soon to act on a request for a salary increase and other benefits for the police department

The action came during Council's regular meeting Tuesday night.

A letter from Police Chief John Hephner requested a $100-a-month raise for each man, boosting the size of the department from seven to nine, jumping the uniform allowance from $75 to $100 annually and having the city pay for hospitalization, and extending vacation time to four weeks after 15 years' service.

Hephner's note said the increase still would leave Wellsville under the national patrolman's salary average of $529 per month. He stated that professionalism in law enforcement agencies only recently has been recognized because of the fast-growing crime rate.

The new Wellsville budget included $20-a-month salary increases for safety forces, but Hephner broke down figures to show how the raise was almost immediately dissipated.

Hospitalization costs for patrolmen have gone up 24.3 per cent, he said, to $6.65 per month. Retirement deductions increased 43 per cent, to $12 monthly, and "with the recent tax raise, police are taking home less now than before the raise," the chief stated.

Council President Allen Baldwin defended the request, declaring, "They are not asking for too much. We also should find the money to get them some new equipment.

"You just said the magic words — 'Find the money'," Councilman George Lawton injected.

Councilman Robert Taggart questioned the need for two new men because of the anticipated population drop when proposed Route 7 is relocated through the city.

Lombardozzi Resigns Post At Wellsville

Veteran Third Ward Councilman Nunzio S. Lombardozzi resigned, effective Sept. 1, Tuesday night during the meeting of Wellsville Council.

The surprise announcement came near the close of the meeting, with Lombardozzi handing a letter to Clerk Wayne Rose to be read to the group.

The Crucible Steel Co. foreman later explained that work duties and other activities have made it difficult for him to continue on in Council.

Members accepted "with deep regret" the resignation and referred to Lombardozzi as a "hard-working councilman" and the "backbone" of the organization.

Applications are now being received from Democrats in the Third Ward to replace Lombardozzi. A selection will be made during a caucus meeting at 7 p.m. Sept. 5. Lombardozzi won

Deflating Punishment

OGDEN, Utah (AP) — Two 13-year-old boys are finding out how long it takes to inflate 132 automobile tires with a hand air pump.

That was the on-the-spot sentence Tuesday of arresting policeman Terry Penland, after the boys admitted cutting valve stems from 33 autos in a five-block area.

Caucus Set Next Tuesday

Wellsville Council To Air Tax, Fire, Police Needs

Wellsville Council will hold a caucus session next Tuesday night to discuss the possibility of a city tax and to decide if a levy should be placed on the Nov. 7 ballot to raise funds for the purchase of a new fire truck, and perhaps a new fire station

The legislators will meet soon to act on a request for a salary increase and other benefits for the police department

The action came during Council's regular meeting Tuesday night.

A letter from Police Chief John Hephner requested a $100-a-month raise for each man, boosting the size of the department from seven to nine, jumping the uniform allowance from $75 to $100 annually and having the city pay for hospitalization, and extending vacation time to four weeks after 15 years' service.

Hephner's note said the increase still would leave Wellsville under the national patrolman's salary average of $529 per month. He stated that professionalism in law enforcement agencies only recently has been recognized because of the fast-growing crime rate.

The new Wellsville budget included $20-a-month salary increases for safety forces, but Hephner broke down figures to show how the raise was almost immediately dissipated.

Hospitalization costs for patrolmen have gone up 24.3 per cent, he said, to $6.65 per month. Retirement deductions increased 43 per cent, to $12 monthly, and "with the recent tax raise, police are taking home less now than before the raise," the chief stated.

Council President Allen Baldwin defended the request, declaring, "They are not asking for too much. We also should find the money to get them some new equipment.

"You just said the magic words — 'Find the money'," Councilman George Lawton injected.

Councilman Robert Taggart questioned the need for two new men because of the anticipated population drop when proposed Route 7 is relocated through the city.

Lombardozzi Resigns Post At Wellsville

Veteran Third Ward Councilman Nunzio S. Lombardozzi resigned, effective Sept. 1, Tuesday night during the meeting of Wellsville Council.

The surprise announcement came near the close of the meeting, with Lombardozzi handing a letter to Clerk Wayne Rose to be read to the group.

The Crucible Steel Co. foreman later explained that work duties and other activities have made it difficult for him to continue on in Council.

Members accepted "with deep regret" the resignation and referred to Lombardozzi as a "hard-working councilman" and the "backbone" of the organization.

Applications are now being received from Democrats in the Third Ward to replace Lombardozzi. A selection will be made during a caucus meeting at 7 p.m. Sept. 5. Lombardozzi won

Slots, Tables Seized During Hancock Raid

The J. & D. Club, located at the rear of the Lantern Inn on Route 66 across from Waterford Park, was one of two gambling spots hit last night by West Virginia state police.

Charged with possession of gambling equipment was Jerry Raimond, 47, of New Cumberland RD 2.

Troopers from three state police barracks conducted the raid.

Seized was $3,000 worth of gambling equipment, including six slot machines, two dice tables, one blackjack table, one over-under (a dice game) table and a gaming clock.

Raimond pleaded no contest before Squire Thomas Bellanco of Weirton and was fined $100 and costs. He also has signed a waiver of destruction for the equipment.

Also raided last night was the Embassy Club, formerly the SAC Club, in downtown Weirton.

Explosion Kills 13, Injures 60 In Spain

SALAMANCA, Spain (AP) — A gas explosion ripped a three-story building in the village of Guijuelo Tuesday as a gay bullfight crowd walked by, killing 13, and injuring about 60 others.

Rescue workers moved rubble throughout the night in search for victims. Guijuelo is 36 miles south of Salamanca.

Many of the dead still awaited identification. All appeared to be Spanish.

Police said the explosion could have been touched off either by a cigarette thrown away by a passerby or a short-circuit.

ASC Gets Set For Elections

LISBON — The Columbiana County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee and the 11 community ASC committees are preparing a slate of nominees for community elections Sept. 8-18. Ballots will be mailed.

J. Glenn Bates, county ASC chairman, said a slate of nominees will be selected by each of the present community committees. The county committee may add additional nominees. Others may be added to the slate by petition if they are found to be eligible and are willing to serve if elected, Bates said.

He said petitions must be limited to one nominee each and signed by at least six eligible voters in the petitioner's community. Petitions must be received at the county ASC office, Gallo Building, N. Park Ave., Lisbon, by Aug. 24.

Those nominated should be currently engaged in the operation of a farm and qualified for committee work, Bates pointed out. In general, a person is eligible to be a community committeeman if he lives in the community in which he is eligible to vote. If a person who is nominated by petition is found to be ineligible, he will be notified and given 15 days to appeal to the county committee.

The 11 communities are made up of township units. They are Butler, Center-Hanover, Elkrun-Middleton, Fairfield, Franklin - Washington, Knox, Liverpool - St. Clair - Yellow Creek, Madison - Wayne, Perry - Salem, Unity and West.

Youths' Parents Are Ordered To Pay Fire Damage

Two Chester youths were given "a stern reprimand" by Mayor Burton Ward following an investigation by firemen of an auto blaze last week.

Ward said after talking with the youths he ordered their parents to pay $50 to the city for the fire call.

Ward added the two set fire to the car, which had been involved in a wreck.

The incident occurred Aug. 10 about 8 p. m. Fifteen firemen were dispatched to extinguish the blaze.

The vehicle is owned by the Ludovici Pontiac Co. and was on a lot behind the showroom at 6th St. and Carolina Ave. at the time.

Ward warned future violations will result in prosecutions whether the incident be a fire or false alarm.

Over Charge Of Atrocities

Jewish, Rights Leaders Hit 'Black Power' Unit

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee's charge that Jews are committing atrocities against Arabs has brought censure of the "Black Power" group from Jewish and civil rights leaders.

"Israel is and always has been the tool and foothold for American and British exploitation in the Middle East and Africa," said Ralph Featherstone, SNCC program director.

Featherstone, Executive Secretary Stanley Wise and Miss Ethel Minor held a news conference Tuesday to expand on a SNCC newsletter which charged that Zionists conquered Arab lands through terror, force and massacres. The newsletter also charged that the Israelis destroyed more than 30 Arab villages before and after they took control of Palestine.

Donald Stone, head of SNCC in Atlanta, said the group is not opposed to Zionism, but that the public should be "aware of these situations in the Middle East."

Reaction to SNCC's statements came quickly from several sources.

Whitney Young, executive director of the National Urban League, a Negro group, said in New York that SNCC's "divorce from reality is best illustrated by the resemblance of their comments to those of the American Nazi party on this question."

In a joint statement A. Philip Randolph, vice president of the AFL-CIO and president of the Sleeping Car Porters, and Bayard Rustin, executive director of the A. Philip Randolph Institute, said SNCC anti-Israeli pronouncements reflect "a complete divorce from the opinions and aspirations of American Negroes."

The Negro leaders said SNCC apparently "has formed an unconscious alliance with right-wing anti-Semites and extremists, while consciously trying to undermine liberal forces in this country.

"A statement so filled with anti-Semitic venom," they continued, "can only be interpreted as an attempt to divert national attention away from the problems of jobs, housing and education, as well as an attempt to divide the growing alliance of labor, liberal religious and civil rights forces."

A spokesman for the Israeli government at the United Nations said SNCC was taking the Arab propaganda line. Irwin Schulman, southeastern director of the Anti-Defamation League, said atrocity photographs in the newsletter which purported to show massacres in the Gaza Strip in 1956 previously had been published in Arab propaganda publications.

Rpt. Joel T. Brohhill, R-Va., suggested SNCC be required to register as a foreign propaganda medium because of the newsletter. Broyhill also said Featherstone had been quoted as saying some of the material in the newsletter was obtained from Arab embassies.

The Virginia congressman said he would call upon the secretary of state and attorney general to investigate the source of the material and to ask any Arab diplomats involved to leave the country.

Gambling Figure Dies

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Ben Goffstein, 59, longtime gambler and president of the Four Queens Hotel in downtown Las Vegas, Nev., died Tuesday after an illness of several months. He was born in Omaha, Neb., and had lived in Las Vegas since 1945.

cut in three years to 50 per cent, same as now used for manufacturers.

Counties could make up the loss in revenue by enacting some or all of the permissive taxes, which could include a $5 fee for auto tags, a one-fourth to one-half per cent sales tax and a 2 per cent tax on utility bills with the first $5 of bills exempt along with water and sewage rentals. The auto tag sales tax proposals would be in addition to the $10 state fee and a proposed new 4 per cent rate in the state sales tax.

Both Houses passed a series of important bills Tuesday and took more off the back burner for action today.

The House gave its approval to a major bill adding four new common pleas judges in Cuyahoga County, three more in Franklin, and one each in Butler, Lucas, Mahoning, Montgomery, Muskingun, Richland, Summit, Warren, and Wayne counties. The bill now goes to the Senate.

Representatives called up for reconsideration and passed a previously defeated bill allowing the public works director instead of the legislature to authorize sale of state - owned lands, with certain restrictions.

Other House bills sent along to the Senate would permit state retirement systems to invest a wider range of real estate and provide for uniform state and private dock fees at the canal reservoir lakes (Buckeye, Indian, St. Marys, Portage, and Laramie.) Fees would be $12 and $6 for each additional boat.

Ohio State will have only 11 seniors playing football this fall.

ASNE Calls For More Detail On House Members' Income

WASHINGTON (AP) — A spokesman for The American Society of Newspaper Editors urged the House ethics committee today to require House members to make more detailed and public disclosure of their sources of income and how they spend taxpayers' money.

The press itself, said Norman E. Isaacs of Louisville, Ky., found it difficult "to claw its way up from its period of low standards" and still is experiencing problems in some areas.

Isaacs, vice-president and executive editor of The Courier-Journal and the Louisville Times, is second vice-president of the ASNE, which has a membership of 679 daily newspapers.

His testimony was prepared for the first public meeting of the Committee on Standards of Official Conduct, which was created this year.

Isaacs made five suggestions for committee consideration:

—The need to define conflict of interest so each member may know from whom and for what services he may accept payment.

—Individual accountability for tax money spent, with the records available for legitimate public inspection.

—Similar public accountability for all travel on government business.

—"Full and clear" reports on the source and use of campaign funds.

—Disclosure of the sources and amounts of nongovernment income.

The press, Isaacs said, has "a constantly improving" record in the field of professional ethics and has taken steps to guard against conflicts of interest.

"If the circumstances should ever make it necessary," he added, "we would not hesitate to inquire into a staff member's sources of income."

While the standards in journalism have risen, Isaacs said, they must go still higher and as they have risen, "so has the quality of our people."

Gambling Figure Dies

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Ben Goffstein, 59, longtime gambler and president of the Four Queens Hotel in downtown Las Vegas, Nev., died Tuesday after an illness of several months. He was born in Omaha, Neb., and had lived in Las Vegas since 1945.

cut in three years to 50 per cent, same as now used for manufacturers.

Counties could make up the loss in revenue by enacting some or all of the permissive taxes, which could include a $5 fee for auto tags, a one-fourth to one-half per cent sales tax and a 2 per cent tax on utility bills with the first $5 of bills exempt along with water and sewage rentals. The auto tag sales tax proposals would be in addition to the $10 state fee and a proposed new 4 per cent rate in the state sales tax.

Both Houses passed a series of important bills Tuesday and took more off the back burner for action today.

The House gave its approval to a major bill adding four new common pleas judges in Cuyahoga County, three more in Franklin, and one each in Butler, Lucas, Mahoning, Montgomery, Muskingun, Richland, Summit, Warren, and Wayne counties. The bill now goes to the Senate.

Representatives called up for reconsideration and passed a previously defeated bill allowing the public works director instead of the legislature to authorize sale of state - owned lands, with certain restrictions.

Other House bills sent along to the Senate would permit state retirement systems to invest a wider range of real estate and provide for uniform state and private dock fees at the canal reservoir lakes (Buckeye, Indian, St. Marys, Portage, and Laramie.) Fees would be $12 and $6 for each additional boat.

Ohio State will have only 11 seniors playing football this fall.

ASNE Calls For More Detail On House Members' Income

WASHINGTON (AP) — A spokesman for The American Society of Newspaper Editors urged the House ethics committee today to require House members to make more detailed and public disclosure of their sources of income and how they spend taxpayers' money.

The press itself, said Norman E. Isaacs of Louisville, Ky., found it difficult "to claw its way up from its period of low standards" and still is experiencing problems in some areas.

Isaacs, vice-president and executive editor of The Courier-Journal and the Louisville Times, is second vice-president of the ASNE, which has a membership of 679 daily newspapers.

His testimony was prepared for the first public meeting of the Committee on Standards of Official Conduct, which was created this year.

Isaacs made five suggestions for committee consideration:

—The need to define conflict of interest so each member may know from whom and for what services he may accept payment.

—Individual accountability for tax money spent, with the records available for legitimate public inspection.

—Similar public accountability for all travel on government business.

—"Full and clear" reports on the source and use of campaign funds.

—Disclosure of the sources and amounts of nongovernment income.

The press, Isaacs said, has "a constantly improving" record in the field of professional ethics and has taken steps to guard against conflicts of interest.

"If the circumstances should ever make it necessary," he added, "we would not hesitate to inquire into a staff member's sources of income."

While the standards in journalism have risen, Isaacs said, they must go still higher and as they have risen, "so has the quality of our people."

Ex-Premier Claimed

NEW YORK (AP) — H. H. Kung, 86, former premier and finance minister of China, died Tuesday of a heart illness. Kung was finance minister of the Nationalist Chinese government from 1933 to the end of World War II and was premier concurrently for a time before the end of the fighting.

A Look At Fiscal Truths

There is some glimmer of hope the foreign aid policy of the United States is shifting toward solid footing.

The United States offered its friend, Peru, a loan of $15 million on the condition specific austerity steps be taken to strengthen Peru's inflated economy. Peru refused. Friction has developed.

Between 1961 and 1966 the United States sent $300 million to Peru in economic aid and $45 million in military aid.

That should be proof enough the United States is trying to help and is entitled to attach some strings to the loans to protect its interest.

A man that has a poor repayment record, or a shaky economic future would have difficulty getting a loan from a bank on his name alone. He would have to back it up with collateral.

The United States is right in attempting to do what it can to insure stability of the borrower.

Just how far the United States can go without making the borrowing country's leaders look like puppets in the eyes of their citizens is a tricky diplomatic question.

One step the United States could take would be to set a general policy of string-attaching to all foreign aid. Then each country's ruling body could decide if it wanted to meet U.S. requirements of foreign aid.

If some of the nations want to vote against acceptance of U.S. aid, that is their choice. If a country's need is great enough, it will accept reasonable requests by the United States.

Borrowing countries must realize money loaned by the U.S. government comes from the American people who have a right to see that it isn't tossed about indiscriminately.

Foreign aid is a self-help program — not a give-away deal.

Two financial facts are pertinent here: money should be borrowed only when needed and it must be borrowed on the lender's terms.

The deal with Peru is only one small part of the overall foreign aid operation but it is significant if it points toward a new trend in U.S. policy.

Ruining An Attitude

East Palestine residents are lamenting the recent outbreak of thievery which has brought a warning from police against leaving homes, cars, bikes and purses unprotected.

More of a concern than the actual property loss itself is the atmosphere of suspicion and fear which the minor thefts has brought.

No longer can the driver leave his car unlocked in safety, no longer can youngsters park their bikes outside while buying their cones, no longer can a housewife leave clothes on the line in the backyard after dark.

In a smaller community such as East Palestine — clean, prosperous, progressive — a little bit of civic pride and self - respect begins to erode with such petty thievery.

We hope the offenders are caught, or, if not, realize the shame of their crimes, which, though minor, can undermine a whole community attitude.

President DeGaulle's Folly

President Charles de Gaulle of France continues to take raps on the nose from his countrymen.

The aging statesman touched off a flurry of criticism recently when he made speeches about a free French Quebec while a guest in Canada at Expo 67.

But sentiment about de Gaulle's policies goes much deeper than the recent display of rudeness. It concerns his unbending position on French independence and every-man-for-himself attitude.

His latest nationwide speech defended his independent policies and reaffirmed his intention of carrying them out in search of the glory of France — regardless of opposition at home or abroad.

Dismayed Americans who are at a loss to explain his attitude toward the United States, one of de Gaulle's favorite targets, can find some satisfaction in an editorial in L'Aurore which posed this question for the President:

"What would have happened to France in 1914 and 1940 if she had had to remain alone and in 1946 if America had not come to protect Western Europe from the menace of Communism?"

President de Gaulle's position has been assailed by newspapers considered to be of the left, right and center. He has been able to please no one.

A newly released poll shows his regime's popularity is at an all-time low.

In ignoring the wishes of many of his countrymen, in letting the vision of personal capture of French grandeur blind him, de Gaulle has brought ridicule upon himself and embarrassed his country.

He has refused to listen to other statesmen of his country who also carry the flame of independence in their hearts but understand the need for diplomacy and cooperation with other nations in a modern world to increase prosperity and respect for France.

President de Gaulle has served his country well but if something cannot be done to make him understand what his countrymen are trying to tell him, then history also will record that he served too long.

Tax Cycle

Milton Friedman, a top economist at the University of Chicago, has a refreshing view of fiscal responsibility in a recent article in Newsweek.

Mr. Friedman believes that when taxes are raised to reduce the federal deficit, the result is likely to be a higher norm of government spending. Deficits, he says, will again mount and the process will be repeated.

He prefers the acceptance of large deficits as the lesser of evils but favors the financing of these deficits by borrowing from the public rather than by undue creation of money, which leads to inflationary pressures.

He would press for expenditure cuts but most important of all, he would oppose any tax increase.

Thirst of the spenders in Washington is never quenched. An increase in taxes may be used as an excuse to reduce the deficit, but in the long haul it will only encourage further spending.

In the search for fiscal responsibility, the advocates of tax and tax, spend and spend will never provide the answer to economic stability.

Lifting Welfare Restrictions

A ruling by a three-judge federal court in Connecticut last June has state officials across the nation concerned about welfare program costs.

The court ruled Connecticut's residency requirement for aid to dependent children unconstitutional.

In a 2 to 1 vote the court held "the right of interstate travel also encompasses the right to be free of discouragement of interstate movement."

We wonder about the ruling.

Where does a family on welfare find the money for a move? Why would a mother and children move to another state?

If there is an unemployed father who wanted better job opportunities, he could check that out before moving the whole family.

Who is doing the complaining about residency requirements? Perhaps it is some deadbeat who is tired of working, says he cannot find a job and wants welfare payments to live on.

Or is it a family that has genuine need, the type welfare programs were set up for in the first place?

It doesn't seem unreasonable to us to have a residency requirement tagged to the welfare program. It prevents a mass migration of welfare recipients to our state from those that have a lower payment rate than Ohio.

The cases now in court in half a dozen states probably will be resolved in a Supreme Court decision later — it could be very costly to some states.

VICTOR RIESEL

Romney Raps 'Great Society'

There is a domestic front. Not all the issues of the coming presidential battle will be international, or of war and peace, or of Vietnam. Thus, the other day I turned to Republican front runner, Gov. George Romney, and asked what he believed would be the most critical problems "stateside."

Victor Riesel

Mr. Romney lashed at government intervetion in the private lives of the citizenry, and controls on labor and management. Labor, he charged, now is becoming monopolistic with the aid of federal statutes.

Here, in his own words, is the definitive statement of the beliefs of a leading contender for the Republican presidential nomination:

LANSING: — The great political economist Henry L. Simons once observed that there are only two ways to discipline an economy: By competition or by absolute authority.

Historically, America chose competition.

Through competition, we have given the customer ultimate power to regulate the economy, through his own free choices in the market place — just as he has the ultimate power to control his government, through his free choices at the ballot box.

Competing enterprises bid freely and fiercely for the favor of the customer. The Producer prospers or dies at the will of the customer. And the customer reaps the principal benefits of economic progress.

Consumer sovereignty in a free market has made the American economy the envy of the world.

But consumer sovereignty faces grave challenges today. One comes from the diminishing faith in our competitive enterprise system, fed by the theories of the advocates of a planned society.

One of The Great Society's most renowned economic prophets recently wrote: "Everyone, including all economists, agrees on consumer sovereignty in principle, but no one wants to trust it in practice."

THIS ECONOMIST and much of The Great Society clearly demonstrate that THEY don't trust the American customer. The thrust of their argument is that industry, not the customer, controls and manages demand telling the customer what he wants or should have, and managing the customer's life

I thoroughly disagree. I trust the customer. Trust in the customer was the basis for the recovery program at American Motors ten years ago, when I was its president.

I believe that consumer sovereignty is the keystone to our competitive enterprise system. If we are to continue to progress as a nation, consumer sovereignty must be protected and strengthened at all costs. But if The Great Society economic planners are right, and if industry is indeed manipulating consumers, then the next logical step is for government to do the manipulating.

The basic problem with this type of thinking is that it replaces consumer sovereignty with government sovereignty. And substitution of government sovereignty is bad news for the consumer and bad news for the economy. Government has the tendency to move in too fast, to go too far, to stay too long, and to make its regulations too rigid. Sooner or later, governmental regulation stifles initiative, innovation, and progress.

Look at today's collective bargaining situation. In the 1930s new laws encouraged union organization. The main reason was that too many companies refused to recognize the economic rights of their employees.

But government regulations appropriate to the needs of the '30s, when workers were not organized, have persisted into the '60s, when a completely different situation prevails. Laws designed to secure to individual workers the benefits of collective bargaining now foster and promote the existence of vast concentrations of bargaining power, which create an inflationary wage-cost-price push.

Thus laws enacted to protect individuals have become not only out of date but a detriment to consumer who pay for them in inflated prices and loss of sovereignty in the market place.

TODAY'S LAWS governing business prohibit monopoly; today's laws governing unions encourage monopoly. This fundamental conflict distorts our entire economic scene, and it must be corrected. There is nothing inherently wrong with bigness. The danger comes in the excessive concentration of economic power in a few hands.

When a basic industry and an industry-wide union meet at the bargaining table, the echoes can be heard around the world. Their actions usually affect our entire economy.

In my opinion, this is just too much economic power to vest in a few individuals or a few organizations.

My fears are based on more than economic influence. For only one force is greater than the combined power of a major industry and a major union locked in unyielding struggle at the bargaining table. That greater force is government.

As a result, current political discussion is concentrated on methods of substituting government sovereignty and authority in the field of collective bargaining for that of unions and companies. Free collective bargaining is in gravest jeopardy. And if free collective bargaining disappears, competitive determination of prices will disappear too. Unless we find a better answer, government determination of wages and prices is not far down the road.

In my judgment, we should divide the growing concentration of monopoly union and employer power by putting collective bargaining between enterprises on the same competitive basis as prices.

IN THOSE BASIC INDUSTRIES which are made up of our large corporations, the competition should be among individual enterprises, each with its team of management, workers, and their unions. Each enterprise — each team of management, workers and unions — should conduct its own wage negotiations in the light of its own conditions, its own facts, and its own problems. In industries which are composed of smaller enterprises, the wage competition should be among groups of enterprises in separate markets and areas.

In such cases, wage negotiations need not be conducted on a company-by-company basis — but bargaining should be on a regional or area basis, rather than on a national or industry-wide basis.

Nationwide strikes or lockouts in such industries cannot be tolerated. Such power is excessive and must be divided to protect the people's role, both as customers and citizens.

The solutions to this problem must not subject individual workers to the old dog-eat-dog competition with one another, where they were encouraged to accept lower wages or inferior working conditions to undercut their fellow workers in competing for jobs. That would be wrong.

But wage rates for competing enterprise teams cannot be taken out of competition, as they are in many of our basic industries today, or government will move in sooner or later to set wages, rates and put an end to collective bargaining. Wage control would make price control inevitable and that would be the end of our competitive economy.

This 'N That

For every four newly - wedded couples who vow to stay together until death them do part, one couple decides not to wait that long. All kinds of people get divorces. Most, however, are under 35. And about half are childless couples who have been married five years or less.

Religion has been one of the most powerful forces in history. Millions of people have died for their religious beliefs. Many nations have gone to war to spread or defend their faiths. But there never has been a people that did not have some form of religion.

Nearly 90 per cent of all American adults are coffee drinkers, with the general average being about three to four cups per day per adult.

DAVID LAWRENCE

Free Justice From Politics

At last some members of Congress are beginning to wake up to the absence of a code of ethics in governmental affairs, and are urging now the complete separation of the department of justice from the influences and pressures of party politics.

Representative William S. Minshall, Republican, of Ohio has just written to his colleagues in the House asking them to support an amendment he has introduced to the anti-crime bill that would remove the Department of Justice from control by the President.

It has always been a matter of concern in Washington, during this and preceding administrations, that the White House directs, for instance, the activities of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Likewise, court prosecution in important cases is undertaken only with the approval of the chief executive.

It is understandable but not commendable that an administration doesn't wish to investigate its own officials or the acts of its political henchmen throughout the country. Thus, for example, violations of the federal corrupt practices act in connection with campaign funds are rarely the subject of prosecution by any attorney general.

THE MOST conspicuous example of neglect today, however, is in connection with the "civil rights" movement. The Department of Justice has failed to prosecute Negro or white agitators, with or without Communist connections, who have been instrumental in fomenting disorders and riots in this country in recent years.

The Department of Justice is in reality an arm of the courts, and as such is entitled to an independent status. Mr. Minshall, in his letter to the other members of the House of Representatives, says:

"It is obvious that the Department of Justice is not enforcing federal statutes involving persons who incite rebellion or insurrection, engage in sedition, advocate the overthrow of the government, or encourage and abet evasion of the selective service act. Despite repeated appeals from the Congress, the Department of Justice continues to ignore these flagrant violations of federal law.

"If impartial and equal justice is to be achieved, and American citizens of all races given the protection to which they are entitled, the Department of Justice must be removed from the political arena. That is the objective of my amendment.

"MY AMENDMENT would establish, as an independent agency, an 'office of justice,' transfering to it all functions of the present Department of Justice. The 'office of justice' would be headed by an attorney general appointed by the President, with the advice and consent of the Senate, for a 15-year term. The attorney general would not be subject to the direction or supervision of the President nor would he be a member of the President's cabinet.

"The 'office of justice' would be accountable to the Congress in the same manner as is the general accounting office and would be distinguished, I am convinced, by the same high and unimpeachable reputation for non-partisan integrity. Until justice is freed from political discipline by the White House, we have no assurance that the law enforcement and criminal justice act or any other anti-crime law we may enact will be enforced."

If this reform should be adopted, it will be not because of happenings under the present administration alone, but because of the custom which has developed whereby an attorney general is named either from a circle of close personal acquaintances of the President or from among high-ranking party chieftains. Again and again, an attorney general has previously been active in either the Republican or Democratic campaigns, and naturally has been under obligation to many individuals who have rendered valuable support during political contests.

Separation of the Department of Justice from the control of the President of The United States could be one of the most significant changes in American government. It could prove to be a most important step in the growing effort to secure nationwide respect for our system of law and order — not only in the selection of judges as well as juries but in the whole process of investigation and prosecution of crime.

"What would have happened to France in 1914 and 1940 if she had had to remain alone and in 1946 if America had not come to protect Western Europe from the menace of Communism?"

President de Gaulle's position has been assailed by newspapers considered to be of the left, right and center. He has been able to please no one.

A newly released poll shows his regime's popularity is at an all-time low.

In ignoring the wishes of many of his countrymen, in letting the vision of personal capture of French grandeur blind him, de Gaulle has brought ridicule upon himself and embarrassed his country.

He has refused to listen to other statesmen of his country who also carry the flame of independence in their hearts but understand the need for diplomacy and cooperation with other nations in a modern world to increase prosperity and respect for France.

President de Gaulle has served his country well but if something cannot be done to make him understand what his countrymen are trying to tell him, then history also will record that he served too long.

Tax Cycle

Milton Friedman, a top economist at the University of Chicago, has a refreshing view of fiscal responsibility in a recent article in Newsweek.

Mr. Friedman believes that when taxes are raised to reduce the federal deficit, the result is likely to be a higher norm of government spending. Deficits, he says, will again mount and the process will be repeated.

He prefers the acceptance of large deficits as the lesser of evils but favors the financing of these deficits by borrowing from the public rather than by undue creation of money, which leads to inflationary pressures.

He would press for expenditure cuts but most important of all, he would oppose any tax increase.

Thirst of the spenders in Washington is never quenched. An increase in taxes may be used as an excuse to reduce the deficit, but in the long haul it will only encourage further spending.

In the search for fiscal responsibility, the advocates of tax and tax, spend and spend will never provide the answer to economic stability.

Lifting Welfare Restrictions

A ruling by a three-judge federal court in Connecticut last June has state officials across the nation concerned about welfare program costs.

The court ruled Connecticut's residency requirement for aid to dependent children unconstitutional.

In a 2 to 1 vote the court held "the right of interstate travel also encompasses the right to be free of discouragement of interstate movement."

We wonder about the ruling.

Where does a family on welfare find the money for a move? Why would a mother and children move to another state?

If there is an unemployed father who wanted better job opportunities, he could check that out before moving the whole family.

Who is doing the complaining about residency requirements? Perhaps it is some deadbeat who is tired of working, says he cannot find a job and wants welfare payments to live on.

Or is it a family that has genuine need, the type welfare programs were set up for in the first place?

It doesn't seem unreasonable to us to have a residency requirement tagged to the welfare program. It prevents a mass migration of welfare recipients to our state from those that have a lower payment rate than Ohio.

The cases now in court in half a dozen states probably will be resolved in a Supreme Court decision later — it could be very costly to some states.

VICTOR RIESEL

Romney Raps 'Great Society'

There is a domestic front. Not all the issues of the coming presidential battle will be international, or of war and peace, or of Vietnam. Thus, the other day I turned to Republican front runner, Gov. George Romney, and asked what he believed would be the most critical problems "stateside."

Victor Riesel

Mr. Romney lashed at government intervetion in the private lives of the citizenry, and controls on labor and management. Labor, he charged, now is becoming monopolistic with the aid of federal statutes.

Here, in his own words, is the definitive statement of the beliefs of a leading contender for the Republican presidential nomination:

LANSING: — The great political economist Henry L. Simons once observed that there are only two ways to discipline an economy: By competition or by absolute authority.

Historically, America chose competition.

Through competition, we have given the customer ultimate power to regulate the economy, through his own free choices in the market place — just as he has the ultimate power to control his government, through his free choices at the ballot box.

Competing enterprises bid freely and fiercely for the favor of the customer. The Producer prospers or dies at the will of the customer. And the customer reaps the principal benefits of economic progress.

Consumer sovereignty in a free market has made the American economy the envy of the world.

But consumer sovereignty faces grave challenges today. One comes from the diminishing faith in our competitive enterprise system, fed by the theories of the advocates of a planned society.

One of The Great Society's most renowned economic prophets recently wrote: "Everyone, including all economists, agrees on consumer sovereignty in principle, but no one wants to trust it in practice."

THIS ECONOMIST and much of The Great Society clearly demonstrate that THEY don't trust the American customer. The thrust of their argument is that industry, not the customer, controls and manages demand telling the customer what he wants or should have, and managing the customer's life

I thoroughly disagree. I trust the customer. Trust in the customer was the basis for the recovery program at American Motors ten years ago, when I was its president.

I believe that consumer sovereignty is the keystone to our competitive enterprise system. If we are to continue to progress as a nation, consumer sovereignty must be protected and strengthened at all costs. But if The Great Society economic planners are right, and if industry is indeed manipulating consumers, then the next logical step is for government to do the manipulating.

The basic problem with this type of thinking is that it replaces consumer sovereignty with government sovereignty. And substitution of government sovereignty is bad news for the consumer and bad news for the economy. Government has the tendency to move in too fast, to go too far, to stay too long, and to make its regulations too rigid. Sooner or later, governmental regulation stifles initiative, innovation, and progress.

Look at today's collective bargaining situation. In the 1930s new laws encouraged union organization. The main reason was that too many companies refused to recognize the economic rights of their employees.

But government regulations appropriate to the needs of the '30s, when workers were not organized, have persisted into the '60s, when a completely different situation prevails. Laws designed to secure to individual workers the benefits of collective bargaining now foster and promote the existence of vast concentrations of bargaining power, which create an inflationary wage-cost-price push.

Thus laws enacted to protect individuals have become not only out of date but a detriment to consumer who pay for them in inflated prices and loss of sovereignty in the market place.

TODAY'S LAWS governing business prohibit monopoly; today's laws governing unions encourage mononoly. This fundamental conflict distorts our entire economic scene, and it must be corrected. There is nothing inherently wrong with bigness. The danger comes in the excessive concentration of economic power in a few hands.

When a basic industry and an industry-wide union meet at the bargaining table, the echoes can be heard around the world. Their actions usually affect our entire economy.

In my opinion, this is just too much economic power to vest in a few individuals or a few organizations.

My fears are based on more than economic influence. For only one force is greater than the combined power of a major industry and a major union locked in unyielding struggle at the bargaining table. That greater force is government.

As a result, current political discussion is concentrated on methods of substituting government sovereignty and authority in the field of collective bargaining for that of unions and companies. Free collective bargaining is in gravest jeopardy. And if free collective bargaining disappears, competitive determination of prices will disappear too. Unless we find a better answer, government determination of wages and prices is not far down the road.

In my judgment, we should divide the growing concentration of monopoly union and employer power by putting collective bargaining between enterprises on the same competitive basis as prices.

IN THOSE BASIC INDUSTRIES which are made up of our large corporations, the competition should be among individual enterprises, each with its team of management, workers, and their unions. Each enterprise — each team of management, workers and unions — should conduct its own wage negotiations in the light of its own conditions, its own facts, and its own problems. In industries which are composed of smaller enterprises, the wage competition should be among groups of enterprises in separate markets and areas.

In such cases, wage negotiations need not be conducted on a company-by-company basis — but bargaining should be on a regional or area basis, rather than on a national or industry-wide basis.

Nationwide strikes or lockouts in such industries cannot be tolerated. Such power is excessive and must be divided to protect the people's role, both as customers and citizens.

The solutions to this problem must not subject individual workers to the old dog-eat-dog competition with one another, where they were encouraged to accept lower wages or inferior working conditions to undercut their fellow workers in competing for jobs. That would be wrong.

But wage rates for competing enterprise teams cannot be taken out of competition, as they are in many of our basic industries today, or government will move in sooner or later to set wages, rates and put an end to collective bargaining. Wage control would make price control inevitable and that would be the end of our competitive economy.

Free Justice From Politics

At last some members of Congress are beginning to wake up to the absence of a code of ethics in governmental affairs, and are urging now the complete separation of the department of justice from the influences and pressures of party politics.

Representative William S. Minshall, Republican, of Ohio has just written to his colleagues in the House asking them to support an amendment he has introduced to the anti-crime bill that would remove the Department of Justice from control by the President.

It has always been a matter of concern in Washington, during this and preceding administrations, that the White House directs, for instance, the activities of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Likewise, court prosecution in important cases is undertaken only with the approval of the chief executive.

It is understandable but not commendable that an administration doesn't wish to investigate its own officials or the acts of its political henchmen throughout the country. Thus, for example, violations of the federal corrupt practices act in connection with campaign funds are rarely the subject of prosecution by any attorney general.

THE MOST conspicuous example of neglect today, however, is in connection with the "civil rights" movement. The Department of Justice has failed to prosecute Negro or white agitators, with or without Communist connections, who have been instrumental in fomenting disorders and riots in this country in recent years.

The Department of Justice is in reality an arm of the courts, and as such is entitled to an independent status. Mr. Minshall, in his letter to the other members of the House of Representatives, says:

"It is obvious that the Department of Justice is not enforcing federal statutes involving persons who incite rebellion or insurrection, engage in sedition, advocate the overthrow of the government, or encourage and abet evasion of the selective service act. Despite repeated appeals from the Congress, the Department of Justice continues to ignore these flagrant violations of federal law.

"If impartial and equal justice is to be achieved, and American citizens of all races given the protection to which they are entitled, the Department of Justice must be removed from the political arena. That is the objective of my amendment.

"MY AMENDMENT would establish, as an independent agency, an 'office of justice,' transfering to it all functions of the present Department of Justice. The 'office of justice' would be headed by an attorney general appointed by the President, with the advice and consent of the Senate, for a 15-year term. The attorney general would not be subject to the direction or supervision of the President nor would he be a member of the President's cabinet.

"The 'office of justice' would be accountable to the Congress in the same manner as is the general accounting office and would be distinguished, I am convinced, by the same high and unimpeachable reputation for non-partisan integrity. Until justice is freed from political discipline by the White House, we have no assurance that the law enforcement and criminal justice act or any other anti-crime law we may enact will be enforced."

If this reform should be adopted, it will be not because of happenings under the present administration alone, but because of the custom which has developed whereby an attorney general is named either from a circle of close personal acquaintances of the President or from among high-ranking party chieftains. Again and again, an attorney general has previously been active in either the Republican or Democratic campaigns, and naturally has been under obligation to many individuals who have rendered valuable support during political contests.

Separation of the Department of Justice from the control of the President of The United States could be one of the most significant changes in American government. It could prove to be a most important step in the growing effort to secure nationwide respect for our system of law and order — not only in the selection of judges as well as juries but in the whole process of investigation and prosecution of crime.

Legislative Leaders Keep Silent On Budget, Taxes

HARRISBURG (AP) — Legislative leaders remain taciturn on their attempt to reach a compromise on Gov. Shafer's budget and tax needs.

House Minority Leader Herbert Fineman, D-Philadelphia, said the Republican and Democratic leaders probably would meet again today, although they have not said so definitely.

The four mediators met twice on Tuesday, but none would elaborate on the progress, or lack of it, of the talks.

"We can't tell you anything," Fineman said, "we're bound in confidence."

Some highly placed lawmakers were heartened merely by the continuance of the discussions.

The best estimate indicated that the struggle to settle on Shafer's exact tax needs ranged between $200 million and $300 million. The latter is the figure the administration claims is necessary to balance its proposed $1.70 billion budget.

Republicans twice carried Democratic proposals to Gov. Shafer Tuesday but they, as well as the front office, remained noncommittal.

"The discussions are just as much up in the air as they were when they began Monday," commented House Speaker Kenneth B. Lee, R-Sullivan, after an hour long meeting with Shafer Tuesday evening.

Lee was accompanied by House Majority Leader Lee A. Donaldson, R-Allegheny, a GOP conferee, and Ways and Means Chairman John Hope Anderson, R-York.

The first thing Tuesday morning Shafer was briefed by Donaldson and Senate Majority Leader Stanley G. Stroup, R-Bedford, on what transpired during a 2½-hour meeting Monday night with their two Democratic counterparts, Fineman and Senate Minority Leader Ernest P. Kline, D-Beaver.

In another development, Anderson introduced a bill that would extend the state's 5 per cent sales tax to include all types of advertising—billboard, newspaper, radio, television, etc.

Anderson was quick to caution that the measure, of which he was the lone sponsor, signaled no break in the tax deliberations.

"Some Republicans on the committee and I have been thinking about this for a while now," he said. "They agreed with me that we should introduce it and see what happens."

He was quick to emphasize that neither the Shafer Administration nor the House Republican leadership had lined up behind the bill.

Dodd — After two hours of stern, often passionate debate, the House adopted a resolution urging Congress to oppose the so-called Dodd Bill, which would regulate the mail-order purchase of firearms. The vote was 121-70 and crossed party lines.

Traffic Safety — The House passed three bills in a package of traffic safety legislation, including a measure which would establish four automobile inspection periods for the state. Car owners would still be required to have their autos inspected only twice a year, however. The measures go to the Senate.

Horseracing — A bill to have the state own and operate three flat racing tracks was released to the floor of the House by the Judiciary Committee. A rival bill which would authorize the licensure of four privately owned plants already is before the chamber. Both measures are to be referred to the Appropriations Committee for a study of the money each would bring in.

Mao Leadership Accuses Liu, Khrushchev Of Plot

TOKYO (AP) — Chairman Mao Tse-tung's leadership, continuing its attack on President Liu Shao-chi, claims that Liu and former Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev backed a plot to topple Mao in 1959.

The Maoist-controlled New China News Agency (NCNA) distributed Tuesday an 8-year-old document adopted by the Communist party's Central Committee accusing former Defense Minister Peng Teh-huai of plotting against Mao.

NCNA said Peng's followers at the time included Liu and other antiparty elements that tried to undermine the leadership.

The Peking People's Daily said today that "Peng was in league with the revisionist Khrushchev trying to topple the Chinese proletarian dictatorship." It did not tell how the then Soviet premier helped Peng.

The paper said the attack on Peng is "an important element to overthrow and completely discredit a handful of top party persons in authority headed by China's Khrushchev who are taking the capitalist road."

"China's Khrushchev" is the name Mao's leadership uses to refer to Liu. The paper refers to the former Soviet premier as Soviet Khrushchev.

After the Central Committee adopted the document in 1959, Chinese leaders announced Peng's dismissal and his replacement by Marshal Lin Piao, Mao's "closest comrade-in-arms" and his apparent successor as party chairman.

People's Daily said: "When Peng was ousted at the party Central Committee on Aug. 6, 1959, Soviet Khrushchev was so shameless as to praise Peng publicly as 'right and brave' and a 'best friend'."

Lin was appointed defense minister in September, 1959. Liu has been president since April, 1959.

NCNA's distribution of the 1959 party document alleging the plot against Mao followed an editorial attack on Liu by People's Daily and the party theoretical journal Red Flag.

The editorials listed "crimes" Liu is supposed to have committed in the party in the last 40 years, including that of trying to improve Red China's relations with the United States and Nationalist China.

2 Ohio Youths Sleep After Hard Row Across Lake Erie

COLSHESTER, Ont. (AP)—Two tired Ohio youths slept in a police constable's garage here Tuesday night after crossing Lake Erie in two days of "hard rowing."

Police Constable Robert Long of the Ontario Provincial Police detachment here, 30 miles south east of Windsor, said the two youths — Edward Neal, 18, of Cleveland and Michael Kerwin, 19, of Shaker Heights—left Sandusky, Ohio, at 9 a. m. Monday.

They arrived here at 4 p. m. Tuesday with only half of their four days' of provisions eaten.

They were expecting a friend to arrive by car from Cleveland today with a boat trailer to carry their 12-foot metal row boat back to Ohio.

Long said the youths called on him shortly after they landed and sought permission to sleep on the beach overnight. Instead he offered them his garage.

Monday night, the youths moored off East Sister Island in Canadian waters, and completed the final 12 miles of their journey Tuesday.

Kerwin said the pair used a $1.98 compass to guide them and could see land all the way, except for about three hours at the end of the trip.

"Using the compass, we broke out of the haze only 300 yards off course and rowed right into Colchester Harbor," he added.

Aside from the haze, Kerwin said "we were always in sight of land, although frequently it was just a small island."

"We feel real good," said Neal, a sophomore at the University of Dayton. "There were no scares, although we hit some rough water during the second day for about a mile."

Kerwin, a sophmore at Wehhling College, said he and Neal worked as laborers "to toughen our hands and build ourselves up." They quit their jobs just before the trip.

Man Wrecks Auto During Patrol Chase

A 25-year-old Lisbon area man whose car wrecked while he was being chased by an Ohio Highway Patrol cruiser faces a charge of reckless operation.

Ray D. Rudibaugh of Roller Coaster Rd. was treated at Salem City Hospital for shoulder and leg abrasions and bruises as a result of the mishap on Route 164 in Mahoning County at 3:10 a. m.

The patrol at Canfield said Rudibaugh was headed south in a 1966 convertible at a high rate of speed, followed by a cruiser, when he lost control of the car, which went off the right side and hit a guardrail.

The car then spun back onto the roadway and went off the highway broadside, overturning. There was heavy damage to the car, officers said.

The mishap occurred about a mile north of the Columbiana County line near Lake Arrowhead.

Aug. 29 Hearing Set For Youth In Fatal Accident

LISBON — A Juvenile Court hearing on a state motion to have a Minerva area youth refered to the September term of the Columbiana County grand jury as the aftermath of a fatal traffic accident has been continued until Aug. 29. The motion originally was set for hearing Tuesday.

Richard L. Vanhooser, 17, is charged in Juvenile Court as a delinquent child by reason of a June 16 collision on Route 30 at County Rd. 402 in East Rochester.

Patrolmen said Vanhooser was operating a car and made a left turn in front of a motorcycle operated by Edward Minger, 36, of Massillon. Minger was killed and his wife, Ruth Minger, 35, died June 23 from head injuries.

Judge Louis Tobin has ordered James L. Miller, court probation officer, to investigate the youth's school and church record, his general reputation and his reputation as a responsible driver and submit the report by Aug. 24 to the court and Vanhooser's defense counsel, Donald Lewis of Lisbon.

Storm Rages Over Herbert

Ohio Democrats Expect '68, '70 Election Gains

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—As the storm raged on at the Statehouse over who told on John Herbert, Ohio Democrats were optimistically looking toward the 1968 and 1970 elections.

Democratic leaders who continued Tuesday their sniping at State Treasurer Herbert, under fire for accepting money from bankers, took time out to predict party gains at the polls next year.

At a news conference Tuesday afternoon, Eugene P. O'Grady, executive director of the party's state headquarters, announced plans to put "a million dollars in the bank" to finance future Democratic campaigns.

"This program will carry us to a sweep of the Legislative races in 1968 and also the Statehouse in 1970," O'Grady said.

The goal would be reached by hiring a fulltime fund raising chairman to oversee a "Year-around" finance committee operating out of Democratic headquarters.

Senate Minority Leader Frank King of Toledo, though not as optimistic as O'Grady, predicted at the news conference that "some of the actions of this legislature are going to cause some switches next year at the polls." He was referring to pending bills to increase taxes and other Republican programs Democrats oppose.

O'Grady charged earlier that a "high - placed official of the Rhodes administration" leaked out information concerning the Herbert story.

When the story broke, Herbert admitted that bankers were among those making contributions to help pay $2,300 of his expenses on a state trade mission to Europe last year and to the Far East in March.

Gov. James A. Rhodes was not available for comment Tuesday. Neither was Herbert. And Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe, who said he had been approached about but turned down an all expense paid trip with the mission, could not be found either. All were reported out of town.

2 Prospective Jurors Excused In Riot Case

CINCINNATI (AP) — Two Negro women were excused Tuesday as prospective jurors in a case growing out of this summer's racial rioting when both expressed apprehension.

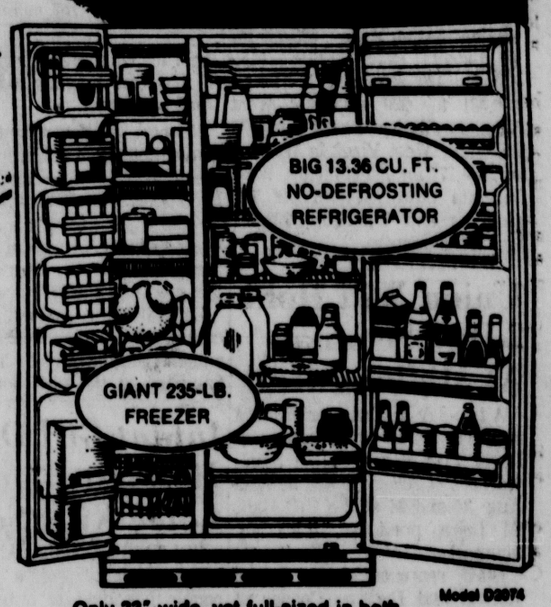

Municipal Judge George S. Heitzler excused one woman who said she had worked 20 years to pay off a mortgage on her home and did not want it "fire bombed." The other woman burst into tears when asked if there was any reason why she could not be an unbiased juror. The three defendants in the case are charged with trespass and malicious destruction of property at a state liquor store June 14.

The Peking People's Daily said today that "Peng was in league with the revisionist Khrushchev trying to topple the Chinese proletarian dictatorship." It did not tell how the then Soviet premier helped Peng.

The paper said the attack on Peng is "an important element to overthrow and completely discredit a handful of top party persons in authority headed by China's Khrushchev who are taking the capitalist road."

"China's Khrushchev" is the name Mao's leadership uses to refer to Liu. The paper refers to the former Soviet premier as Soviet Khrushchev.

After the Central Committee adopted the document in 1959, Chinese leaders announced Peng's dismissal and his replacement by Marshal Lin Piao, Mao's "closest comrade-in-arms" and his apparent successor as party chairman.

People's Daily said: "When Peng was ousted at the party Central Committee on Aug. 6, 1959, Soviet Khrushchev was so shameless as to praise Peng publicly as 'right and brave' and a 'best friend'."

Lin was appointed defense minister in September, 1959. Liu has been president since April, 1959.

NCNA's distribution of the 1959 party document alleging the plot against Mao followed an editorial attack on Liu by People's Daily and the party theoretical journal Red Flag.

The editorials listed "crimes" Liu is supposed to have committed in the party in the last 40 years, including that of trying to improve Red China's relations with the United States and Nationalist China.

2 Ohio Youths Sleep After Hard Row Across Lake Erie

COLSHESTER, Ont. (AP)—Two tired Ohio youths slept in a police constable's garage here Tuesday night after crossing Lake Erie in two days of "hard rowing."

Police Constable Robert Long of the Ontario Provincial Police detachment here, 30 miles south east of Windsor, said the two youths — Edward Neal, 18, of Cleveland and Michael Kerwin, 19, of Shaker Heights—left Sandusky, Ohio, at 9 a. m. Monday.

They arrived here at 4 p. m. Tuesday with only half of their four days' of provisions eaten.

They were expecting a friend to arrive by car from Cleveland today with a boat trailer to carry their 12-foot metal row boat back to Ohio.

Long said the youths called on him shortly after they landed and sought permission to sleep on the beach overnight. Instead he offered them his garage.

Monday night, the youths moored off East Sister Island in Canadian waters, and completed the final 12 miles of their journey Tuesday.

Kerwin said the pair used a $1.98 compass to guide them and could see land all the way, except for about three hours at the end of the trip.

"Using the compass, we broke out of the haze only 300 yards off course and rowed right into Colchester Harbor," he added.

Aside from the haze, Kerwin said "we were always in sight of land, although frequently it was just a small island."

"We feel real good," said Neal, a sophomore at the University of Dayton. "There were no scares, although we hit some rough water during the second day for about a mile."

Kerwin, a sophmore at Wehhling College, said he and Neal worked as laborers "to toughen our hands and build ourselves up." They quit their jobs just before the trip.

Eston Maple, president, presided.

A pound of uncooked rice yields about 2¼ cups— enough servings for eight, after cooking.

Man Wrecks Auto During Patrol Chase

A 25-year-old Lisbon area man whose car wrecked while he was being chased by an Ohio Highway Patrol cruiser faces a charge of reckless operation.

Ray D. Rudibaugh of Roller Coaster Rd. was treated at Salem City Hospital for shoulder and leg abrasions and bruises as a result of the mishap on Route 164 in Mahoning County at 3:10 a. m.

The patrol at Canfield said Rudibaugh was headed south in a 1966 convertible at a high rate of speed, followed by a cruiser, when he lost control of the car, which went off the right side and hit a guardrail.

The car then spun back onto the roadway and went off the highway broadside, overturning. There was heavy damage to the car, officers said.

The mishap occurred about a mile north of the Columbiana County line near Lake Arrowhead.

Aug. 29 Hearing Set For Youth In Fatal Accident

LISBON — A Juvenile Court hearing on a state motion to have a Minerva area youth refered to the September term of the Columbiana County grand jury as the aftermath of a fatal traffic accident has been continued until Aug. 29. The motion originally was set for hearing Tuesday.

Richard L. Vanhooser, 17, is charged in Juvenile Court as a delinquent child by reason of a June 16 collision on Route 30 at County Rd. 402 in East Rochester.

Patrolmen said Vanhooser was operating a car and made a left turn in front of a motorcycle operated by Edward Minger, 36, of Massillon. Minger was killed and his wife, Ruth Minger, 35, died June 23 from head injuries.

Judge Louis Tobin has ordered James L. Miller, court probation officer, to investigate the youth's school and church record, his general reputation and his reputation as a responsible driver and submit the report by Aug. 24 to the court and Vanhooser's defense counsel, Donald Lewis of Lisbon.

Storm Rages Over Herbert

Ohio Democrats Expect '68, '70 Election Gains

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—As the storm raged on at the Statehouse over who told on John Herbert, Ohio Democrats were optimistically looking toward the 1968 and 1970 elections.

Democratic leaders who continued Tuesday their sniping at State Treasurer Herbert, under fire for accepting money from bankers, took time out to predict party gains at the polls next year.

At a news conference Tuesday afternoon, Eugene P. O'Grady, executive director of the party's state headquarters, announced plans to put "a million dollars in the bank" to finance future Democratic campaigns.

"This program will carry us to a sweep of the Legislative races in 1968 and also the Statehouse in 1970," O'Grady said.

The goal would be reached by hiring a fulltime fund raising chairman to oversee a "Year-around" finance committee operating out of Democratic headquarters.

Senate Minority Leader Frank King of Toledo, though not as optimistic as O'Grady, predicted at the news conference that "some of the actions of this legislature are going to cause some switches next year at the polls." He was referring to pending bills to increase taxes and other Republican programs Democrats oppose.

O'Grady charged earlier that a "high - placed official of the Rhodes administration" leaked out information concerning the Herbert story.

When the story broke, Herbert admitted that bankers were among those making contributions to help pay $2,300 of his expenses on a state trade mission to Europe last year and to the Far East in March.

Gov. James A. Rhodes was not available for comment Tuesday. Neither was Herbert. And Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe, who said he had been approached about but turned down an all expense paid trip with the mission, could not be found either. All were reported out of town.

2 Prospective Jurors Excused In Riot Case

CINCINNATI (AP) — Two Negro women were excused Tuesday as prospective jurors in a case growing out of this summer's racial rioting when both expressed apprehension.

Municipal Judge George S. Heitzler excused one woman who said she had worked 20 years to pay off a mortgage on her home and did not want it "fire bombed." The other woman burst into tears when asked if there was any reason why she could not be an unbiased juror. The three defendants in the case are charged with trespass and malicious destruction of property at a state liquor store June 14.

Snag In Auto Industry Pact Talks Feared

DETROIT (AP) — Indications are growing that militant skilled tradesmen may snarl peaceful new contract settlement within the auto industry.

Apparently taking cognizance of this, the United Auto Workers union demoted the chairman of its General Motors negotiating team Tuesday night for "association with activities" of a rebellious skilled trades group within the UAW.

Joseph Malotke of Warren, Mich., was fired as chairman. Glen Stack of Flint, Mich., was named to succeed him. The union said Malotke remains a member of its GM bargaining team.

Both Stack and Malotke are skilled tradesmen. Malotke could not be reached for comment.

Malotke endorsed a demonstration planned for a week from today by the United Skilled Trades Committee, formerly known as the "$1-an-Hour-Now Committee," headed by Christopher Manning, president of Malotke's home local.

Members of Manning's committee are UAW members and their demonstration is planned at headquarters of Ford Motor Co., to impress UAW bargainers there and elsewhere of a determination by the skilled tradesmen to get a substantial wage boost beyond any general increase in new contracts.

Manning said a $1-an-hour annual increase during the expected three-year life of new contracts at GM, Ford and Chrysler is a goal of his group.

The UAW's GM negotiating team last week termed the planned demonstration "ill advised and improper at this time" and recommended it be called off. Malotke said that had he been able to vote as chairman he would have favored the demonstration.

Malotke endorsed a demonstration planned for a week from today by the United Skilled Trades Committee, formerly known as the "$1-an-Hour-Now Committee," headed by Christopher Manning, president of Malotke's home local.

Members of Manning's committee are UAW members and their demonstration is planned at headquarters of Ford Motor Co., to impress UAW bargainers there and elsewhere of a determination by the skilled tradesmen to get a substantial wage boost beyond any general increase in new contracts.

Manning said a $1-an-hour annual increase during the expected three-year life of new contracts at GM, Ford and Chrysler is a goal of his group.

The UAW's GM negotiating team last week termed the planned demonstration "ill advised and improper at this time" and recommended it be called off. Malotke said that had he been able to vote as chairman he would have favored the demonstration.

Lisbon Faculty Set For Opening

LISBON — The Board of Education accepted two resignations Tuesday night and hired 11 new teachers to complete the faculty for the opening of school Sept. 6.

Resignations were submitted by George Ceremuga of Lisbon, physical education teacher who had resigned earlier as head football coach, and Clarence Keyser, high school mathematics, who has accepted a mechanical engineering position in Ellwood City, Pa.

CONTRACTS were made with: Mrs. Sandra Geiger of Lisbon, half-day kindergarten at McKinley School, $2,695; Mrs. Charlotte Gottberg of Poland, McKinley 1st grade, $4,440; Mrs. Irma Guinther of New Middleton, McKinley 2nd grade, $6,042; Mrs. Hazel Weaver of Salem, Lincoln School 3rd grade, $5,300; Mrs. Judy Powell of Lisbon, special education at Lincoln, $5,958.

Mrs. Shirley Beilhart of Leetonia, high school science, $4,310; Mrs. Linda Hoedt of Salem, commercial subjects, $4,900; Robert Blake of Chester, W. Va., high school mathematics, $6,777; Joseph Feth of Salineville, social studies, $4,900; Joseph Carlucci of Struthers, health, physical education and one commercial class, $5,954, and Saiyed Ahmad of Pakistan, chemistry, physics and mathematics, $7,325. He received a master's degree from Bowling Green State University last month and has had 12 years' teaching experience in colleges and high schools. He taught general math at Wellsville high last year.

Carlucci was given supplemental contracts as assistant football coach, $300; school paper adviser, $300, and head track coach, $150.

OTHER faculty members on supplemental contracts for 1967-68 are:

Edwin Bucher, head football coach, $700; Gary Pike, head basketball coach, $700, and assistant football coach, $300, and extended service as guidance counselor, $418; Robert Ashton, golf, $100, and freshman football, $300, and extended service in special education work projects, $270.

David May, band, $500; Leonard Welch, chorus half time, $250; George Nace Jr., faculty manager of athletics, $300; Barry James, junior high football and basketball, $250 and $200 respectively; John Vaglia, assistant track coach, $100; Mrs. Isobel Edgerton, audio - visual work, $200, and Mrs. Jane Clark, senior play director, $75.

The board also approved paying $854 as Lisbon's share of the salary of Vernon A. Walrath, who will be vocational education program supervisor for Lisbon, Beaver Local, Fairfield-Waterford, United, Columbiana, Leetonia and East Palestine school districts.

Former coordinator of East Liverpool High School's diversified cooperative training program, Walrath will receive $9,000 per year plus $400 travel. With retirement of $1,081, the total expenditure will be $10,481, of which the state will pay $4,500. The seven school districts will share the difference.

The Corey Oil Co. of Columbiana submitted a bid on gasoline and oil in bulk lots, but the board asked Supt. Joe W. Driscoll to find out, before signing a contract, if the installation of an underground bulk tank on the McKinley grounds will increase insurance costs and if a local service station will lubricate and wash the buses.

COREY WILL install the tank without charge if given a three-year contract and deliver gasoline at 16.7 cents per gallon plus 7 cents state tax and oil at $1.35 per gallon in cans or $1.32 in drums. The agreement carries an escalation clause to cover price increases.

The Schwebel Baking Co. of Youngstown received the bread contract on a low bid of 23 cents for a 26-ounce, 34-slice loaf.

The Purity - Superior Dairy of Beloit RD 2 was awarded the milk contract on a bid of 6 cents each for half pints of Grade A homogenized milk or chocolate milk.

The Industrial Mining & Engineering Co. of Lisbon again was given the coal contract for Lincoln and the high school buildings on bids of $6.10 per ton at Lincoln and $7.10 at the high school. The Acme Coal Co. of Youngstown bid $5.95 and $6.95, but failed to state the source of its coal as required by the advertisement for bids.

The board studied three bids for a 66 - passenger school bus and voted to ask the State Department of Education for authority to accept the two low bids — $4,236 for an International chassis (frame and motor) from O. S. Hill Co., East Liverpool, and $3,178 for a Superior boody from the Superior Coach Co. of Powhatan Point. The board is bound by law to accept the lowest responsible bid.

—:—

THE BOARD also voted to:

Accept and record a Lisbon Teachers Association request that it be the only bargaining agent for the teachers;

Pay for the physical examinations required of school bus drivers;

Authorize Driscoll to buy a pickup truck to replace an old one no longer serviceable;

Buy a $687.50 calculator for the cooperative office education program, with the understanding the state will pay half;

Renew membership in the Ohio State Athletic Association;

Buy five tables and 24 chairs for the vocational home economics department at a cost of $402.30;

Adopt and purchase a textbook for the new vocational home ec course and one for commercial law and consumer education, and

Grant the Earl Mitchell refuse service's request for a $10 increase (from $140 to $150 per year) for collecting refuse at the three buildings.

Final Approval Given Coil Bill In Pennsylvania

Rep. Robert O. Davis, R-Beaver, of the 13th Legislative District announced from Harrisburg, Pa., this morning that the metal coil bill approved by the House about a week ago was passed by the Senate Tuesday 46-0.

Davis said the action marked the end of a 10-year battle to get such a bill adopted. About two years ago the bill passed the House, but died in the Senate Highway Committee.

Supporting the metal coil bill, in addition to Davis, were Beaver County legislators Rep. Charles D. Stone, Rep. Robert K. Hamilton, and Rep. Ronald G. Lench, all Democrats.

Sen. Marvin V. Keller, R, is chairman of the Senate Highway Committee.

The coil bill states "it shall be unlawful to transport by an open body, or stake body, motor vehicle, trailer, or semi-trailer, over the highways in this state, metal coils, ingots or pipe unless they are properly tied down."

Restrictions on how the materials are to be secured are lengthy. Enforcement will be under the jurisdiction of the secretary of revenue and Pennsylvania state police, Davis said.

Included is a penalty of $300 for each violation or 30 days in jail for non-payment.

QUESTION — "We understand that people in England are embalmed but are not shown. Why aren't they seen there?"

ANSWER — The Labor Government in England enacted laws whereby the funeral directors must obtain an official permit before embalming each deceased person. These permits often require several days to obtain, which creates impossible conditions for other than mere preservation of the deceased. Public demand is growing to create a change in this law.

House Eyes Old Age Fund Boost, Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House turns attention from income taxes to boosted Social Security benefits and taxes asked by President Johnson, with prospects appearing bright for passage.

Scheduled to open today was debate on a bill that would raise the Social Security benefits of the nation's 22 million present recipients and of all future recipients.

The mammoth measure not only would give a 12½ per cent or greater raise to all pensioners but would make dozens of other changes in the various programs provided for in the Social Security Act.

It also would hike the system's taxable base from $6,600 to $7,600— meaning a Social Security tax boost of $44 a year next year for anyone making as much as $7,600.

One of the most controversial of the proposed changes would establish new, stricter rules of eligibility for medicaid programs such as New York State's.

These are federally-aided state programs of health services for persons not indigent, but considered unable to handle all their medical expenses.

Some states have broadened the financial standards for eligibility enough to take in large proportions of their population. The medicaid program is not connected with medicare.

Other controversial amendments would require states to put more emphasis on job training and welfare opportunities in their federally-aided welfare programs.

There appeared to be little opposition, however, to the sections of the bill providing more money for beneficiaries of the basic programs for the aged, widows and dependent children.

The new scales would mean, for example, that the typical retired couple now receiving a little more than $130 a month would receive about $150. The minimum payment would go up from $40 to $50 a month.

Under the procedures laid down Monday by the Rules Committee, House members will have no opportunity to amend the measure, but only to pass or defeat it. It appeared likely to be passed intact in the House, but to face strenuous Senate efforts to revise it.

The first allows the safety - service director to contract for improvement and resurfacing of certain streets; the second instructs the director to advertise for bids on a ¾-ton street department truck; the third for a one-ton packer, and the fourth for a cemetery truck.

Councilmen also learned that a new police cruiser and a water pump for 12th St. will be purchased from city funds.

Council also approved a motion to vacate a portion of Walden Ave.

Passed under suspension of rules was an ordinance agreeing to cooperate with East Liverpool in its transportation study.

Correspondence from State Sen. John Longsworth and Rep. Clarence Wetzel was read assuring the city it would be notified the next time Highlandtown Lake is to be drained.

The city also voted to enter into an agreement with Frank Salonica of Weirton whereby he would strip-mine for coal at the city dump and cover garbage there in return.

Councilman James Phillips said the penalties for illegal dumping should be increased and enforced and also pointed out the dump has become "a rifle range" on Sundays for rat shooters.

Senate Gives LBJ Setback On Arms Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration has suffered a Senate setback on its military assistance program and is showing heightened concern over other parts of President Johnson's 1967 foreign aid bill.

The Senate refused Tuesday to allow the Defense Department to continue guaranteeing repayment of loans made to underdeveloped countries for purchases of U.S. arms.

The key vote was 46 to 45, upholding the Foreign Relations Committee recommendation for abolition of the guarantee plan. The administration opposes the proposed elimination.

During Senate debate, administration representatives met with nearly 20 senators to appeal for support in restoring sharp cuts the committee made in other areas of foreign aid.

A final vote on the over-all measure is not expected until at least late this week.

The committee headed by Sen. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., cut more than $700 million from the $3.4 billion requested by Bason

The bill it sent to the floor also would strip the President of authority to add countries, without congressional approval, to the list of those receiving U.S. aid.

The committee also refused to approve the two-year authorizations the President requested and struck out of his bill major policy declarations Johnson had offered as a new look in foreign aid.

The only source of electrical power in Fairbanks was from standby emergency generators, mostly operated by the military. Emergency messages were relayed by commercial radio stations KFAR and KFRB.

The A-67 centennial grounds, proud showcase of Alaska's 100th anniversary was completely under water. Boucher said the $7 million showplace, nestled in a bend of the raging Chena, would probably be a total loss.

Never before in the city's 66-year history has Fairbanks experienced such a deluge as dumped nearly 5½ inches of rain in the valley and surrounding hills.

More than three inches of rain fell in one 24-hour period Friday and Saturday. The weather bureau said Fairbanks' average rainfall for the entire month of August is 2.20 inches.

The village of Minto, along the Yukon River north of here, called for emergency food and medical supplies Tuesday night. Officials said food and several public health nurses would be sent to the village of about 200 persons.

In Fairbanks a late call from a refugee-crowded site on high ground said tersely: "One of the things we need most right now is a batch of clean baby diapers."

bar to arrest some one?" Baldwin asked Taggart.

"I don't go into bars," Taggart replied.

Baldwin continued, explaining that police are working shorthanded and a sufficiently-manned department is necessary.

Baldwin and Taggart bantered the points for some length, Taggart questioning the city's and state's laws and Baldwin countering that there were "plenty of laws," but agencies were needed to "back them."

Councilman Nunzio Lombardozzi ended the discussion by suggesting a meeting between Lawton, chairman of the finance committee, Council and representatives of the police department to learn the "whys and wherefores" of the request.

The meeting then switched to fire safety, with Councilman Jack Call suggesting a 2-mill levy for two years to yield $40,000 for a new fire engine.

The lawmakers generally agreed the fire truck, now 16 years old, is necessary, again with the exception of Taggart, who said the pumper doesn't have "many miles on it".

The fire station, over a half-century old and originally a church, also was discussed, with members indicating a replacement should be considered. For the third time, Taggart dissented.

"I don't think there's anything wrong with the fire station and I wouldn't approve a levy to have it replaced," he commented.

The question of taxation was brought up, with Lawton suggesting a master license of $1,200 for every establishment which uses vending machines. Lawton also suggested the establishment of a head tax, with adults to pay $15 yearly, children to be assessed $5.

Call indicated he felt a wage tax on the individual's adjusted income was the fairest form of a tax plan.

Members will go over the problem in greater depth at their caucus meetings next week.

Boost Urged For Driver, Car Tag Fees

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—All Ohio motorists apparently will dig deeper into their pocketbooks and may have to shell out more than $20 to renew tags and driver licenses after this year.

Several bills making their way through the General Assembly, almost unnoticed because of other major measures raising sales and other taxes, would hit motorists in several ways.

A bill before the Ohio Senate today would hike from $1 to $5 the extra cost of special plates used by ham radio operators, physicians, and others. A floor amendment is expected to bring this down to $3, however.

Also pending is a proposed $5 county auto tag fee on top of the present state fee of $10, and possibly another $5 in a bill to increase the annual state fee.

Passed by the Senate and sent to the House Tuesday was a bill increasing from 35 to 50 cents the fee charged by deputy registrars for sale of plates and registrations.

Included in the omnibus Highway Safety Bill—due for final action today by the Senate Highways and Urban Affairs Committee—is a provision to increase the fee for three-year driver licenses from 75 cents to $4. The latter would help finance driver education training in all high schools.

It has been determined that a person's eyesight is not quite so keen while he is riding in a car as when he is sitting still. Apparently the car's vibrations transfer themselves to one's eyeballs, producing a slightly blurred vision.

Little Beaver Creek Stressed As Resource

LISBON — Little Beaver Creek is a Columbiana County resource of great importance, James L. Morrissey of Lisbon and Howard Firestone of Salem told the executive committee of the county Regional Planning Commission Tuesday night at the Courthouse.

Morrissey is RPC director and Firestone vice chairman. They presided for Floyd Lower, commission chairman, who is leading a people-to-people tour in Europe.

The speakers drew on information obtained in interviews with various state agencies. They emphasized the Little Beaver is important to the communities it passes and also as a part of Beaver Creek State Park.

They said the park segments of the stream — the north and middle forks from Negley and Elkton downstream to the Ohio River — are included in proposed federal legislation (the Scenic Rivers Act) now before Congress. Through state and federal cooperation, the park section of the creek could come under the proposed scenic rivers system.

Committee members agreed that the RPC should take the initiative in the care, protection and development of the stream.

The committee also discussed a proposed community leadership seminar being planned for this area in November and December and the county commissioners' delay in approving subdivision regulations presented to them last spring.

The planning commission's next meeting will be Sept. 19 at the Courthouse.

Brush Fire Quelled By Wellsville Firemen

Wellsville volunteer firemen were called to a brush fire in Madison Township near the Yellow Creek United Presbyterian Church Tuesday afternoon to assist in quelling a minor blaze.

Fire Chief Robbert Lewis said the fire occurred on an Ohio Power Co. right-of-way near Route 45. A tree company conducting clearing operations was working at the site, and it is believed a dropped cigarette or equipment spark started the fire.

Assisting the Wellsville firefighters were workmen from the Davey Tree Co. and fire warden Charles Heffner.

Crash Hurts Area Woman

A young Salem woman was hospitalized Tuesday night in a two - car sideswipe collision on Route 14's Millville Hill area, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

Mrs. Darlene Guy, 20, was thrown out of one of the cars in the collision at 7:30 a mile east of Salem.

She was a passenger in an auto operated by Dennis J. Stokes, 17, of Salem which was struck by another driven by Merle A. Joy, 21, of Salem.

Officers said Stokes, headed west, attempted to pass Joy, but saw an approaching auto and swerved to the right. Stokes' 1959 convertible hit Joy's 1955 sedan, then went off the north side and ripped out 85 feet of guardrail. Joy's car also went off the roadway for some distance.

Stokes was charged with driving left of center. He and Joy escaped injury. Mrs. Guy was in "fair" condition at Salem City Hospital with multiple bruises and abrasions, a fractured collarbone and dislocated elbow.

No one was injured in a collision of two cars on Route 170 just north of the intersection with Route 30 at 10:15 p. m., officers said.

Little Beaver Creek Stressed As Resource

LISBON — Little Beaver Creek is a Columbiana County resource of great importance, James L. Morrissey of Lisbon and Howard Firestone of Salem told the executive committee of the county Regional Planning Commission Tuesday night at the Courthouse.

Morrissey is RPC director and Firestone vice chairman. They presided for Floyd Lower, commission chairman, who is leading a people-to-people tour in Europe.

The speakers drew on information obtained in interviews with various state agencies. They emphasized the Little Beaver is important to the communities it passes and also as a part of Beaver Creek State Park.

They said the park segments of the stream — the north and middle forks from Negley and Elkton downstream to the Ohio River — are included in proposed federal legislation (the Scenic Rivers Act) now before Congress. Through state and federal cooperation, the park section of the creek could come under the proposed scenic rivers system.

Committee members agreed that the RPC should take the initiative in the care, protection and development of the stream.

The committee also discussed a proposed community leadership seminar being planned for this area in November and December and the county commissioners' delay in approving subdivision regulations presented to them last spring.

The planning commission's next meeting will be Sept. 19 at the Courthouse.

Vietnam

Vietnamese military spokesman said one government infantry battalion and troops in armored carriers ran up against what was identified as the Viet Cong 309th Mobile Battalion—perhaps 300 to 400 men.

The battle raged throughout the day, and South Vietnamese troops reported they left 33 Viet Cong dead on the battlefield, and captured seven of the enemy. Five enemy weapons were reported captured, including two 60 millimeter mortars. Government casualties were described as "extremely light."

After the battle far to the north, southeast of coastal Phu My, allied troops reported finding 65 enemy bodies. One U.S. soldier was killed and the Vietnamese reported their own casualties as light.

A multibattalion force from the South Vietnamese 41st Regiment had locked in heavy fighting all day Tuesday with an estimated two companies of North Vietnamese army regulars—perhaps 200 or more men.

The government troops, some of them in armored carriers, came under heavy recoilless rifle and mortar fire.

"He was very definite about being the next governor," one woman said, "but we think his statements to us may have just been political."

Beter was in the area today on behalf of his campaign.

Transformer Put Back In Service At East Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — The repaired and overhauled step-up transformer was restored to service in the city's power system without incident Tuesday, Safety - Service Director George McGuckin reports.

Total cost of the project will be some $16,000, he said, all to be paid by insurance coverage.

The transformer was knocked out of service in January after lightning apparently damaged the equipment. The transformer increases the basic power output of the city-owned power plant, reducing the amount of output needed daily.

McGuckin said the repair costs are set about $12,000, with $3,000 transportation charges, and an additional expense of yesterday's installation.

Man, Girl Unhurt In Plane Mishap

A 41-year-old Minerva pilot and his daughter, 15, escaped injury Tuesday afternoon when their light plane crash-landed in a wheat field about a mile north of East Rochester.

Robert W. Dillon of Minerva was attempting an emergency landing in the field on the farm of William H. Merrick of Minerva RD 2 when the landing gear collapsed and the Piper Comanche skidded along the ground, damaging the propeller and fuselage, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said.

Dillon said the engine had failed and he was forced to land in the field from which the wheat had been cut. He and his daughter, Nancy, 15, were uninjured, officers said.

Twins Shut Out Angels 4-0, Increase Lead To 1½

Morehead Blanks Tigers, White Sox, A's Divide

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Dave Morehead's most recent complete game shutout wasn't as brilliant as the one that preceded it, but it may be more important. The first one meant a place in the Little Red Book. The latest may have meant his career.

Morehead's six-hitter in Boston's 4-0 victory over Detroit Tuesday night may have marked the end of the trail in his comeback attempt from an arm problem that struck just when he seemed on the way to greatness.

The last complete-game shutout Morehead pitched was a no-hitter against Cleveland on Sept. 16, 1965. But in April of 1966, he came up with a sore arm that held him down to 12 appearances and a 1-2 record.

When no improvement showed over the spring he was sent to Toronto where he compiled an 11-5 record before being recalled recently. He pitched erratically in his first few appearances until striking it rich against his old friends, the Tigers.

In other American League games Tuesday, Chicago split with Kansas City, winning 4-2 and losing by the same score, Minnesota shut out California 4-0, Baltimore outhit New York 11-10 in 13 innings and Cleveland blanked Washington 3-0.

"I don't think anyone can pitch any better than Dave pitched tonight," said catcher Elston Howard, who has caught some pretty fair pitchers in his time. "He was really hitting the glove and he had real good stuff all the way."

Willie Horton, struck out twice by Morehead, joined in the accolade, saying, "He used to throw harder, but I had more trouble picking up his ball tonight."

The Red Sox didn't do much hitting off Detroit pitching either, getting only five hits, but three of them were homers — by Reggie Smith, George Scott and Carl Yastrzemski.

Chicago's split with the Athletics knocked the White Sox another half-game down the ladder in the American League pennant race. They now trail Minnesota by 1½ games.

Rocky Colavito's three-run homer provided the Chicago victory in the opener, but Rick Monday came back with a three-run blast that made the difference in the finale.

Jim Perry turned in a six-hit shutout for the Twins who have now won six in a row. Tony Oliva had three hits and drove in a run and Harmon Killebrew and Jerry Zimmerman each drove in runs with singles.

The slugfest at Yankee Stadium was decided by a balk as Fritz Peterson committed the miscue in the 13th, sending Andy Etchebarren home from third. Bill Robinson, Joe Pepitone and Horace Clarke hit homers for the Yanks.

Stan Williams stopped the Senators on four hits and Max Alvis hit a two-run homer for the Indians.

20 Straight 0's For Stan Williams

WASHINGTON (AP) — A crowd of 27,138 showed up Tuesday night hoping to see the Senators climb over the .500 mark, a feat that might be close to launching the Washington Monument.

Cleveland provided the opposition and the Indians' pitcher was a guy named Stan Williams, who came up late this season from Portland.

The Senators didn't make it over .500, the Washington Monument is still in the same place, and Williams extended his consecutive scoreless inning streak to 20.

Max Alvis' two-run homer did the job in a three-run eighth inning rally to give the Indians a 3-0 victory on Williams' five-hitter. Williams is average of 1.50, best on the staff.

The Tribe broke it open when Chuck Hinton doubled off Darold Knowles after two outs. Leon Wagner singled, scoring Hinton.

Then Alvis Rapped his 16th homer of the season into the Senators' bullpen, scoring behind Vic Davalillo, who ran for Wagner. Knowles came on for Barry Moore, who allowed just three hits but was lifted when he tired after seven innings.

The Senators threatened in the second on singles by Dick Nen and Bernie Allen, but Ed Brinkman grounded out to retire the side. Fred Valentine blooped a double to left in the fourth and Nen lined a ground rule double over the fence in right in the seventh. Both were left strand.

Steve Hargan (12-9) will go against Camilo Pascual (11-8) in the second of the three - game series tonight.

Two Upsets In Newport Net Tourney

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Dick Leach, the non-playing captain of the United States' junior Davis Cup squad, and Zan Guerry, a member of the team, are surprise members of today's second round of the Newport Casino men's tennis tournament after sidelining seeded players Tuesday.

Leach, 27, of Arcadia, Calif., unranked in the United States, finished fast and eliminated fourth-seeded Mark Cox of England, seeded sixth, 4-6, 6-0, 6-3.

Guerry, 18, of Lookout Mt., Tenn., the second ranking junior nationally, but only 24th among the men, polished off Ray Ruffels, Australia, 6-2, 1-6, 6-3.

Yesterday's Stars

PITCHING — Stan Williams, Indians, stopped Washington on five hits as Cleveland beat the Senators 3-0.

BATTING — Rocky Colavito, White Sox, hit a three-run homer, sending Chicago to a 4-2 decision over Kansas City in the first game of a twi-night doubleheader. The A's won the second game 4-2.

Red-Hot Cards Deny World Series Plans

ST. LOUIS (AP) — It's about that time of year when the sports writers ask the league leaders who they want to play in the other league. So the sports writers asked the St. Louis Cardinals who they want to play.

"Japan," Julivan Javier said. "I don't care who we play — anybody, — as long as we play." Javier brought the Cardinals one step closer to Japan, or anybody, with a triple in the sixth inning that pushed the Cardinals past the Chicago Cubs 6-4 Tuesday night.

"El Birdoes never lose on payday," Javier laughed after the game, as clubhouse man Butch Yatkeman passed out the paychecks.

"You mean we get paid for this?" center fielder Curt Flood asked.

It was the second night in a row the Cardinals came back to beat Chicago. And it was the fifth victory in a row for the red hot Birds.

Orlando Cepeda is so relaxed he doesn't know how far in front the Cardinals are.

They are 10½ ahead of Atlanta and Cincinnati.

"I don't know how many games we have to win, how many games we have to play, and I don't know who's behind us. All I know," Cepeda said, "is that we're playing the best ball we've played all year right now."

"And I'll think about who we want to play in the American League when we clinch the pennant," he added.

Small Hurls Columbus 9 To 6-3 Win

By The Associated Press

Asa Small's primary job with the Columbus Jets of the International League is as a late-inning relief pitcher.

But Small demonstrated Tuesday night that, if the occasion demands, he can come in early and go a long way.

Called on with two out in the first inning when starter Bob Moose was spiked on a play at first base, Small pitched the last 8 1-3 innings as the Jets whipped Syracuse 6-3.

The Richmond Braves once again moved to within half a game of first place with a 4-1 triumph over the Toronto Maple Leafs. Front-running Rochester lost to Toledo 4-3 in 10 innings. Jacksonville beat Buffalo twice, 3-2 and 5-2.

Freddie Patek homered for the first Columbus run in the first after the Jets had been shut out by Syracuse pitchers for 25 innings. A two-out error accounted for the three decisive runs in the seventh.

Toledo scored the winning run in the 10th against Rochester without a hit. Ike Brown walked, was sacrificed to second, moved to third on two more walks and scored on a passed ball.

Intrepid, Columbia Vie In America's Cup Test

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Intrepid and Columbia, easy winners Tuesday, square off against each other today in a crucial test in the America's Cup selection trials off Newport.

Intrepid dominated earlier observation trials in June and July, but her victory Tuesday over Constellation was no more impressive than Columbia's over American Eagle.

Columbia swept home by 10 minutes 31 seconds over the 24-mile course and the margin could have been greater had not a halyard shackle slipped open and dumped the spinnaker into the water at the first weather mark. The mishap cut two minutes off Columbia's lead.

Intrepid, skippered by Bus Mosbacher, pulled away down the reaching leg and won by five minutes 15 seconds.

Eagle and Constellation oppose each other in the second race today and Eagle meets Intrepid and Constellation takes on Columbia Thursday.

The yacht picked by the America's Cup selection committee before Sept. 4 will make the United States' defense of the Cup against the Australian challenger, Dame Pattie, Sept. 12.

Advances In Tennis

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Defending champion Peaches Bartkowicz of Hamtramck, Mich., whipped Kathy Dombos of Kalamazoo, Mich., 6-1, 6-2, in the third round of the U.S. Girls' Grass Court Tennis Championships.

Reds Edge Pirates 2-1

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Ted Abernathy's sinker proved too much for the Pittsburgh Pirates to handle Tuesday night as the Cincinnati Reds came from behind to edge them, 2-1.

It was the Reds' sixth victory in the last eight games and moved them past Chicago into third place, 10½ games behind the National League leading St. Louis Cardinals.

The game also marked Leo Cardenas' return to action — and he observed the occasion by hitting a triple and scoring the tying run.

"I had a real good sinker tonight," Abernathy said after notching his fifth victory in eight decisions. "I threw it most of the time."

"Dear Abby" took over for Mel Queen after the Reds tied the score, 1-1, in the seventh. Cardenas tripled with one out and raced home on Tommie Sisk's wild pitch to pinch hitter Art Shamsky.

Tony Perez doubled in the winning run in the eighth. Vada Pinson led off with a bunt and stole second when Sisk struck out Pete Rose. He moved on to third on Lee May's long fly ball and scored easily when Perez doubled to left center.

The Pirates got their run in the fourth on Al Luplow's bloop single, a fielder's choice and Bill Mazeroski's single to right.

Cardenas was sidelined June 16 when his right hand was broken by one of Bill Singer's pitches at Los Angeles.

Outfielder Floyd Robinson, another of the Reds' invalids, also was returned to the roster, but did not see action Tuesday night.

The series continues tonight, with Jim Maloney (9-9) due to oppose Dennis Ribant (6-6).

Tish Preuss Amateur Golf Medalist

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Blonde Phyllis (Tish) Preuss, who failed to qualify for the tourney last year, leads the field into today's start of match play in the 67th Women's Amateur Golf Championship.

By winning medalist honors with a 4-over-par 148 Tuesday over the Annandale Golf Club course, Miss Preuss outplayed three former women champions of the U.S. Golfers Association.

"This course is ideal for me. I don't hit too long, but I'm usually pretty straight," said the 28-year-old Pompano Beach, Fla., sportswear shop clerk.

The 32 qualifiers began match play with two rounds today.

Tied for runner-up qualifying honors at 150 were Roberta Albers of Tampa, Fla., a straight-A senior at University of Miami, and Martha Wilkinson of Fullerton, Calif., the national intercollegiate champion.

Miss Albers, 20, equalled the best score in the women's open's 67-year history with the only sub-par-round shot at Annandale, a 2-under 34-36—70 to go with her opening 80.

In fourth place with 151 was Barbara McIntire of Colorado Springs, Colo., a two-time women's winner.

Twins Shut Out Angels 4-0, Increase Lead To 1½

Morehead Blanks Tigers, White Sox, A's Divide

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Dave Morehead's most recent complete game shutout wasn't as brilliant as the one that preceded it, but it may be more important. The first one meant a place in the Little Red Book. The latest may have meant his career.

Morehead's six-hitter in Boston's 4-0 victory over Detroit Tuesday night may have marked the end of the trail in his comeback attempt from an arm problem that struck just when he seemed on the way to greatness.

The last complete-game shutout Morehead pitched was a no-hitter against Cleveland on Sept. 16, 1965. But in April of 1966, he came up with a sore arm that held him down to 12 appearances and a 1-2 record.

When no improvement showed over the spring he was sent to Toronto where he compiled an 11-5 record before being recalled recently. He pitched erratically in his first few appearances until striking it rich against his old friends, the Tigers.

In other American League games Tuesday, Chicago split with Kansas City, winning 4-2 and losing by the same score, Minnesota shut out California 4-0, Baltimore outhit New York 11-10 in 13 innings and Cleveland blanked Washington 3-0.

"I don't think anyone can pitch any better than Dave pitched tonight," said catcher Elston Howard, who has caught some pretty fair pitchers in his time. "He was really hitting the glove and he had real good stuff all the way."

Willie Horton, struck out twice by Morehead, joined in the accolade, saying, "He used to throw harder, but I had more trouble picking up his ball tonight."

The Red Sox didn't do much hitting off Detroit pitching either, getting only five hits, but three of them were homers — by Reggie Smith, George Scott and Carl Yastrzemski.

Chicago's split with the Athletics knocked the White Sox another half-game down the ladder in the American League pennant race. They now trail Minnesota by 1½ games.

Rocky Colavito's three-run homer provided the Chicago victory in the opener, but Rick Monday came back with a three-run blast that made the difference in the finale.

Jim Perry turned in a six-hit shutout for the Twins who have now won six in a row. Tony Oliva had three hits and drove in a run and Harmon Killebrew and Jerry Zimmerman each drove in runs with singles.

The slugfest at Yankee Stadium was decided by a balk as Fritz Peterson committed the miscue in the 13th, sending Andy Etchebarren home from third. Bill Robinson, Joe Pepitone and Horace Clarke hit homers for the Yanks.

Stan Williams stopped the Senators on four hits and Max Alvis hit a two-run homer for the Indians.

20 Straight 0's For Stan Williams

WASHINGTON (AP) — A crowd of 27,138 showed up Tuesday night hoping to see the Senators climb over the .500 mark, a feat that might be close to launching the Washington Monument.

Cleveland provided the opposition and the Indians' pitcher was a guy named Stan Williams, who came up late this season from Portland.

The Senators didn't make it over .500, the Washington Monument is still in the same place, and Williams extended his consecutive scoreless inning streak to 20.

Max Alvis' two-run homer did the job in a three-run eighth inning rally to give the Indians a 3-0 victory on Williams' five-hitter. Williams is average of 1.50, best on the staff.

The Tribe broke it open when Chuck Hinton doubled off Darold Knowles after two outs. Leon Wagner singled, scoring Hinton.

Then Alvis Rapped his 16th homer of the season into the Senators' bullpen, scoring behind Vic Davalillo, who ran for Wagner. Knowles came on for Barry Moore, who allowed just three hits but was lifted when he tired after seven innings.

The Senators threatened in the second on singles by Dick Nen and Bernie Allen, but Ed Brinkman grounded out to retire the side. Fred Valentine blooped a double to left in the fourth and Nen lined a ground rule double over the fence in right in the seventh. Both were left strand.

Steve Hargan (12-9) will go against Camilo Pascual (11-8) in the second of the three-game series tonight.

Reds Edge Pirates 2-1

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Ted Abernathy's sinker proved too much for the Pittsburgh Pirates to handle Tuesday night as the Cincinnati Reds came from behind to edge them, 2-1.

It was the Reds' sixth victory in the last eight games and moved them past Chicago into third place, 10½ games behind the National League leading St. Louis Cardinals.

The game also marked Leo Cardenas' return to action — and he observed the occasion by hitting a triple and scoring the tying run.

"Dear Abby" took over for Mel Queen after the Reds tied the score, 1-1, in the seventh. Cardenas tripled with one out and raced home on Tommie Sisk's wild pitch to pinch hitter Art Shamsky.

Tony Perez doubled in the winning run in the eighth. Vada Pinson led off with a bunt and stole second when Sisk struck out Pete Rose. He moved on to third on Lee May's long fly ball and scored easily when Perez doubled to left center.

The Pirates got their run in the fourth on Al Luplow's bloop single, a fielder's choice and Bill Mazeroski's single to right.

Cardenas was sidelined June 16 when his right hand was broken by one of Bill Singer's pitches at Los Angeles.

Outfielder Floyd Robinson, another of the Reds' invalids, also was returned to the roster, but did not see action Tuesday night.

The series continues tonight, with Jim Maloney (9-9) due to oppose Dennis Ribant (6-6).

Red-Hot Cards Deny World Series Plans

ST. LOUIS (AP) — It's about that time of year when the sports writers ask the league leaders who they want to play in the other league. So the sports writers asked the St. Louis Cardinals who they want to play.

"Japan," Julivan Javier said. "I don't care who we play — anybody, — as long as we play." Javier brought the Cardinals one step closer to Japan, or anybody, with a triple in the sixth inning that pushed the Cardinals past the Chicago Cubs 6-4 Tuesday night.

"El Birdoes never lose on payday," Javier laughed after the game, as clubhouse man Butch Yatkeman passed out the paychecks.

"You mean we get paid for this?" center fielder Curt Flood asked.

It was the second night in a row the Cardinals came back to beat Chicago. And it was the fifth victory in a row for the red hot Birds.

Orlando Cepeda is so relaxed he doesn't know how far in front the Cardinals are.

They are 10½ ahead of Atlanta and Cincinnati.

"I don't know how many games we have to win, how many games we have to play, and I don't know who's behind us. All I know," Cepeda said. "is that we're playing the best ball we've played all year right now."

"And I'll think about who we want to play in the American League when we clinch the pennant," he added.

Small Hurls Columbus 9 To 6-3 Win

By The Associated Press

Asa Small's primary job with the Columbus Jets of the International League is as a late-inning relief pitcher.

But Small demonstrated Tuesday night that, if the occasion demands, he can come in early and go a long way.

Called on with two out in the first inning when starter Bob Moose was spiked on a play at first base, Small pitched the last 8 1-3 innings as the Jets whipped Syracuse 6-3.

The Richmond Braves once again moved to within half a game of first place with a 4-1 triumph over the Toronto Maple Leafs. Front-running Rochester lost to Toledo 4-3 in 10 innings. Jacksonville beat Buffalo twice, 3-2 and 5-2.

Freddie Patek homered for the first Columbus run in the first after the Jets had been shut out by Syracuse pitchers for 25 innings. A two-out error accounted for the three decisive runs in the seventh.

Toledo scored the winning run in the 10th against Rochester without a hit. Ike Brown walked, was sacrificed to second, moved to third on two more walks and scored on a passed ball.

Von Hoff Helps Stop 10-Loss Run

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bruce Von Hoff thought all day about making his first major league start and now that it's over National League batters have something to think about.

"I was told this noon by Speck Richardson (Houston general manager) that I was going to pitch," said the 23-year-old right-hander who was called up from Amarillo of the Texas League Monday. "I thought about it all day."

After eight innings of Tuesday night's game, the Los Angeles Dodgers undoubtedly had some thoughts about Von Hoff—probably unpleasant ones—but that's about all they had. Von Hoff gave them just four hits and no runs before being lifted for a pinch hitter in the bottom of the eighth.

However, he didn't get the victory. But Houston did, 2-1 in 12 innings, and that's a story in itself. The Astros had lost their 10 previous games by scoring a total of 25 runs while their pitchers gave up 70 and completed just one game.

In other National League games, St. Louis beat the Chicago Cubs 6-4, Philadelphia swept the New York Mets 3-2 in 12 innings and 7-5, San Francisco topped Atlanta 4-1 and Cincinnati edged Pittsburgh 2-1.

"I thought I could go another inning or two," said Von Hoff who was 4-2 with Amarillo, "but Grady (Manager Grady Hatton) made the right move."

The move was to pinch hit Julio Gotay for Von Hoff with one on and two out in the eighth. Gotay walked and Sonny Jackson singled to load the bases, but Claude Osteen got Joe Morgan to foul out.

Larry Sherry then held the Dodgers until the 11th when Tom Dukes, brought up Monday from Oklahoma City of the Pacific Coast League, took over.

The Dodgers broke through against Dukes when Jim Lefebvre singled home Nate Oliver. However, the Astros came right back in the bottom of the 11th. Bob Aspromonte singled off reliever Phil Regan, scoring Rusty Staub.

Houston then won it in the 12th when Morgan singled, and, with two out, rookie Doug Rader doubled him home.

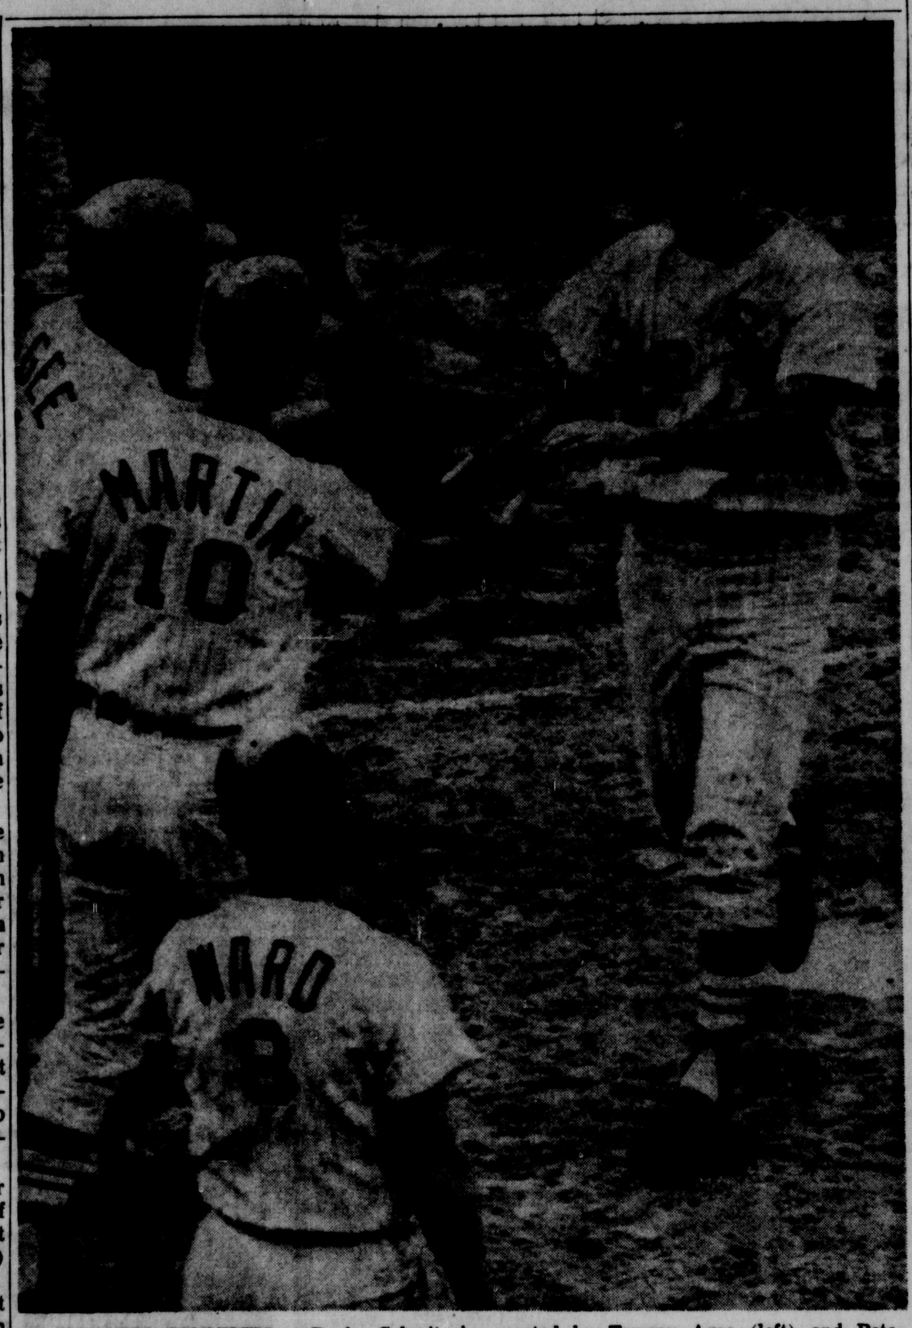

A five-run sixth inning, highlighted by Julian Javir's two-run triple keyed St. Louis to its victory over Chicago as the Cardinals opened up a 10½-game lead over Atlanta and Cincinnati which are tied for second place. The Cubs dropped to fifth, 11 games back.

Bill White's leadoff homer in the 12th gave Philadelphia its first game victory. John Callison sparked the nightcap triumph by driving in three runs with a homer and double.

The Phillies pulled off the sixth triple play in the majors this season, three in each league, in the second inning of the nightcap. With two on, Phil Linz grounded to Rich Allen, who stepped on third for one out and threw to Cookie Rojas at second for another force. Rojas then relayed to first baseman White to complete the triple play, the second the Mets have hit into this year.

Ty Cline lashed four straight hits and scored twice and Jim Hart belted a two-run homer in leading San Francisco to its victory. The homer was Hart's 27th.

Cincinnati tied Pittsburgh at 1-1 in the seventh and then won it in the eighth when Vada Pinson raced home on Tony Perez' double. The loss was the Pirates' sixth in the last seven games.

COLAVITO CONNECTS — Rocky Colavito is greeted by Tommy Agee (left) and Pete Ward (8), who were on base when Colavito slammed a homer for the White Sox against Kansas City in Chicago last night. J. C. Martin, the next batter, also offers congratulations. Sox won this game 4-2, but lost nightcap of twi- night doubleheader by same score.

Davis's No. 3 Win Softball Game 12-3

Davis's No. 3 defeated Staley's No. 1 12-3 in a Chester Junior Softball League contest last night.

Larry Taylor led the winners with five hits in five hits in five times up, including a seventh -inning grand-slam home run. Scotty Beck added three hits for the winners.

Jay Mumaw was the winning hurler and Scott Murray the loser.

Wins Regatta Race

Fleckman, Simons Among Amateur Golf Qualifiers

Marty Fleckman, the low amateur in last June's U.S. Open Golf Championship, qualified Tuesday for the National Amateur Golf Championship, but shared the headlines with John Farquhar and several teen-agers.

Fleckman, a 23-year-old from Port Arthur, Tex., who led the U.S. Open a tthe halfway 36-hole mark, qualified at Cleveland, Ohio, with a two-under-par 72-72 —144 at the Kirtland Country Club.

This was eight strokes back of the eight-under-par 68-68—136 Farquhar, of Amarillo, Tex., posted at Odessa, Tex. to lead the two-day sectional qualifying around the country for the National at Colorado Springs, Colo. Aug. 30-Sept. 2.

Ron Cerrudo of San Francisco qualified at Rochester, N.Y. with a 137 to tie John Bohmann of Seguin, Tex., for the second lowest score in the two-day sectionals. Bohmann got his 137 for 36 holes Monday.

Don Hawken of Novato, Calif., Jim Simons of Butler, Pa., and Skip Koprivica of Butte, Mont., were the teen-agers who did well as did Ray Leach, Novato, and Joey Dills, Muskogee, Okla.

Hawken, 17, led the Northern California sectional at San Francisco with a 70-73—143. Simons, also 17, qualified at Pittsburgh with a 71-74—145. Koprivica, 19, shot a 68-73—141 at the Butte Country Club.

Ray Leach, another 17-year-old, qualified with a 145 at San Francisco. Dills, who won't be 16 until November, also got a 145 at Oklahoma City.

Qualifying at Cleveland along with Fleckman were Kirtland's pro, Ed Meister Jr., 145; Jim Norstrom of Ashland, 145; Roger McManus, Canton, 145; and Dennis Gallagher, Mansfield, 146.

Seven players qualified at Cincinnati's Camargo Country Club, led by Elliott Phillips, a 35-year-old New Albany, Ind., contractor who said, "I played way over my head," after turning in a 74-69—143.

The other Cincinnati qualifiers were Jack Lewis Jr., Florence, S. C., 146; Ross Bartschy Jr., Columbus, and Tom Whitelaw, Cincinnati, both at 147; and Ed Tutlier of Indianapolis, Dr. Harry Duccilli of Cincinnati, and Jeff Parry of Zanesville, all at 148.

Rams Miss Pair Against Browns

PALO ALTO Calif, (AP)—Los Angeles Rams' Coach George Allen, who has won two National Football League exhibition games while experimenting with new players, likely will go against the Cleveland Browns Saturday night without running backs Tommy Mason and Dick Bass.

Neither played in the Rams' 16-7 victory over New Orleans and a 20-6 decision against Dallas.

Allen probably will use running backs Willie Ellison and Les Josephson behind quarterback Roman Gabriel. Ellison was the Rams' top draft pick, from Texas Southern.

The Browns, however, can expect to see a front defensive four that gave up only 212 points in 1966 – a record second only to the world champion Green Bay Packers.

Lamar Lundy and Dave Jones are the Rams' ends, with tackles Merlin Olsen and Rosey Grier holding down the inside.

Four Browns returned from National Guard training and joined the club here. They are Paul Warfield, Ernie Kellermann, Randy Schultz and Mike Howell.

Howell, who has not yet signed a 1967 contract, had a talk with owner Art Modell Tuesday but salary terms were reportedly not discussed.

New Format Set For NCAA Cage

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)— The NCAA Executive Committee announced today a change in format for the NCAA basketball championships beginning with 1969.

The four regional playoffs and the championship finals will be scheduled on Thursday night and Saturday afternoon as an experiment for 1969 and 1970. They have been played on Friday and Saturday nights.

The finals for 1969 are scheduled March 20 and 22 at Freedom Hall in Louisville, Ky., and the regionals a week earlier on March 13 and 15 at sites to be determined.

Lee said there were several considerations in the playoff change. The major ones were to eliminate conflicts with many state high school tournaments and to allow better coverage by press, radio and television of the NCAA events.

Lee said the new plan also gives more rest for the players in the period from Thursday to Saturday rather than playing successive games Friday and Saturday.

Astro Rookie Blanks LA

Von Hoff Helps Stop 10-Loss Run

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bruce Von Hoff thought all day about making his first major league start and now that it's over National League batters have something to think about.

"I was told this noon by Speck Richardson (Houston general manager) that I was going to pitch," said the 23-year-old right-hander who was called up from Amarillo of the Texas League Monday. "I thought about it all day."

After eight innings of Tuesday night's game, the Los Angeles Dodgers undoubtedly had some thoughts about Von Hoff—probably unpleasant ones—but that's about all they had. Von Hoff gave them just four hits and no runs before being lifted for a pinch hitter in the bottom of the eighth.

However, he didn't get the victory. But Houston did, 2-1 in 12 innings, and that's a story in itself. The Astros had lost their 10 previous games by scoring a total of 25 runs while their pitchers gave up 70 and completed just one game.

In other National League games, St. Louis beat the Chicago Cubs 6-4, Philadelphia swept the New York Mets 3-2 in 12 innings and 7-5, San Francisco topped Atlanta 4-1 and Cincinnati edged Pittsburgh 2-1.

"I thought I could go another inning or two," said Von Hoff who was 4-2 with Amarillo, "but Grady (Manager Grady Hatton) made the right move."

The move was to pinch hit Julio Gotay for Von Hoff with one on and two out in the eighth. Gotay walked and Sonny Jackson singled to load the bases, but Claude Osteen got Joe Morgan to foul out.

Larry Sherry then held the Dodgers until the 11th when Tom Dukes, brought up Monday from Oklahoma City of the Pacific Coast League, took over.

The Dodgers broke through against Dukes when Jim Lefebvre singled home Nate Oliver. However, the Astros came right back in the bottom of the 11th. Bob Aspromonte singled off reliever Phil Regan, scoring Rusty Staub.

Houston then won it in the 12th when Morgan singled, and, with two out, rookie Doug Rader doubled him home.

A five-run sixth inning, highlighted by Julian Javir's two-run triple keyed St. Louis to its victory over Chicago as the Cardinals opened up a 10½-game lead over Atlanta and Cincinnati which are tied for second place. The Cubs dropped to fifth, 11 games back.

Bill White's leadoff homer in the 12th gave Philadelphia its first game victory. John Callison sparked the nightcap triumph by driving in three runs with a homer and double.

The Phillies pulled off the sixth triple play in the majors this season, three in each league, in the second inning of the nightcap. With two on, Phil Linz grounded to Rich Allen, who stepped on third for one out and threw to Cookie Rojas at second for another force. Rojas then relayed to first baseman White to complete the triple play, the second the Mets have hit into this year.

Ty Cline lashed four straight hits and scored twice and Jim Hart belted a two-run homer in leading San Francisco to its victory. The homer was Hart's 27th.

Cincinnati tied Pittsburgh at 1-1 in the seventh and then won it in the eighth when Vada Pinson raced home on Tony Perez' double. The loss was the Pirates' sixth in the last seven games.

COLAVITO CONNECTS — Rocky Colavito is greeted by Tommy Agee (left) and Pete Ward (8), who were on base when Colavito slammed a homer for the White Sox against Kansas City in Chicago last night. J. C. Martin, the next batter, also offers congratulations. Sox won this game 4-2, but lost nightcap of twi- night doubleheader by same score.

Davis's No. 3 Win Softball Game 12-3

Davis's No. 3 defeated Staley's No. 1 12-3 in a Chester Junior Softball League contest last night.

Larry Taylor led the winners with five hits in five hits in five times up, including a seventh -inning grand-slam home run. Scotty Beck added three hits for the winners.

Jay Mumaw was the winning hurler and Scott Murray the loser.

Chicago Bears' Cupboard Bare Except For Spectacular Sayers

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

RENSSELAER, Ind. (AP) — Gale Sayers is the Chicago Bears. When the Kansas comet steps on the field, the Bears sparkle and fizz. Without Sayers the Bears are just another football team with a drab attack.

An unprecedented wave of defections, injuries and retirements and a couple of desperate trades have left the Bears with manpower problems that may take some time to solve. George Halas, the 72-year-old owner-coach, and his staff are working far into the night looking for the answers.

Mike Ditka's departure left a gap at tight end that may only be filled by another trade. Ditka, of course, played out his option with the Bears and forced a trade with Philadelphia that brought Jack Concannon to Chicago.

The retirement of Jon Arnett and Joe Marconi, plus an injury to Ron Bull, has left the Bears with a dangerous shortage of running backs. The retirement of Ed O'Bradovich and the trade of the veteran Doug Atkins stripped both defensive end positions, forcing Halas to rely on rookies or a trade.

Add to these problems the loss of three men to New Orleans in the expansion draft and the trading of Herman Lee and the plight of the Bears is easy to see.

Sayers is the one bright spot in a sea of uncertainty. To fully appreciate Sayers' value to the club it is only necessary to take a look at the 1966 statistics.

As a team the Bears ran for only 1,927 yards. Sayers personally accounted for 1,231 as he captured the rushing title, the first time a halfback has accomplished this feat. He also led the league in kickoff returns, caught 34 passes for 347 yards and threw six passes.

In the Bears' scrimmage with the College All-Stars, Gale hit for a touchdown with an option pass.

Although Halas bridles at any suggestion that Sayers might wind up as a flanker or outside man, there are many who think that may be the eventual answer.

"Why put him out there?" asks Halas. "He led the league in running and he loves it. We probably will get a few more passes to him and, don't forget, he throws a few now and then."

A year ago the Sayers-Andy Livingston was being boomed as the big new threat but Livingston missed the entire season due to knee surgery after an injury in a preseason game with Green Bay. Livingston is reported healthy again but it remains to be seen how the fullback's knee stands up under heavy pounding.

In the shortage of running backs, Charley Bivins has been moved back to his old fullback post from tight end. Bull, who suffered a broken bone in his foot, is scheduled to be back by opening day. Garry Lyle of George Washington has been slowed down by injuries.

When Halas got Concannon, the scrambling quarterback, from Philadelphia, it was assumed he would be No. 1. In fact, Halas said the job was his until somebody beat him out. But Rudy Bukich, who decided to reconsider his decision to quit, has been giving Concannon a fight for the post. Rudy had a bad year in 1966 after enjoying his best season in 1965.

The Bears' receivers are split end Jimmy Jones and flanker Johnny Morris, combing back after knee surgery. In his search for a tight end Halas has used Duane Allen, ex-Ram, 6-foot-7 Charles McLeod of Quad Cities in the minors and rookie Fritz Greenlee of Arizona.

Bob Pickens, a Nebraska rookie, was to have taken over Lee's old job at left tackle but injuries sent him to the hospital. George Seals or Randy Jackson probably will team with Bob Wetoska at the offensive tackle posts. Jim Cadile and Mike Rabold will be the guards and Mike Pyle the center.

Casting around for defensive ends, Halas is using rookie Loyd Phillips of Arkansas, drafted No. 3 as a future a year ago, at left end. Mary Amsler of the Wheeling Ironmen and Terry Oakes of San Francisco State have been trying out at the other end. Frank Cornish and Dick Evey are the tackles although Evey can go to end in a pinch.

The Bears are solid at linebacker with Joe Fortunato, Dick Butkus and Jim Purnell backed by Doug Buffone and Mike Reilly. In the deep defense the veterans Rosey Taylor, Richie Petitbon and Bennie McRae are set but rookie Joe Taylor of the Continental League team in Toronto has been battling Curt Gentry for a corner job.

Roger Leclerc's place kicking job may be in danger from rookies Bruce Amsler of Texas Christian and Rick Duncan of East Montana State who also is coming off his poorest season as the regular punter.

Field Of 10 Expected For W. Va. Derby

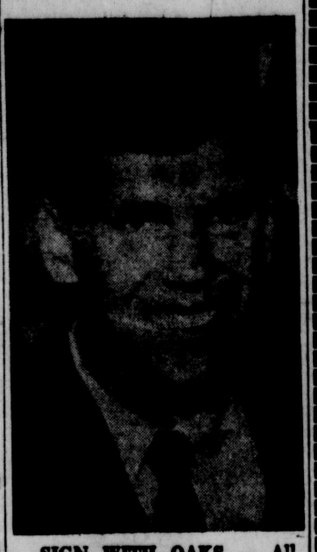

A field of 10 and possibly 12 is expected to be named Wednesday for the seventh running of the West Virginia Derby. The Derby, top offering of the Waterford Park meeting, will be run over the Waterford Park track Friday night. It carries an added value of $7,500 and probably will gross more than $10,000. The distance is one mile and one eighth.

Heading the field will be Air Boat, a hard charging Florida-bred which won the West Virginia Derby Prep race last Friday. Air Boat, owned by Boyd Finnell of Vinita, Oklahoma, stumped the prep field with a scintillating performance with a substitute jockey aboard. In taking the measure of the Canadian invader, Mr. Sin, he forced the Canadian camp to send for help, which arrived yesterday in the form of More Of Mort, a Canadian-bred colt which recently captured the Quebec Derby.

More Of Mort will run as an entry with My Sin with one of the pair going after the lead to set a fast pace and kill off the sprinters and the other staying within striking distance, reserving his speed for that final lunge to the wire.

In addition to the Canadian pair and the prep race winner, others entered are Mask Right, a fourth place finisher in the prep; the Pennsylvania - bred pair of Michelangela and Dubois Frau, the latter the pacesetter in the prep, and Fred Nick, Jr., the favorite in the prep which finished fifth after a very poor start.

There's also Mike Douglas, the Ohio-bred colt owned by Dr. D. C. Sterns of Cleveland; Mighty John W., Harold Queen's speed merchant, and from Chicago unbeaten Fleeting Chance.

SIGN WITH OAKS — All American Wes Bialosuknia of the University of Connecticut signed a three-year contract with the Oakland Oaks of the new American Basketball Association yesterday.

Nervous Officials Hope For Ortiz-Laguna KO

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Both lightweight champion Carlos Ortiz and challenger Ismael Laguna predict knockout victories tonight. If either comes through with a kayo jolt it could make for the best kind of finish to the widely criticized title fight at Shea Stadium.

This is the fight that Police Commissioner Howard Leary said New York could do without this riot-troubled summer.

Leary also had in mind the three missile-throwing riots within a 21-months span at Madison Square Garden following three decisions against main eventers of Puerto Rican descent.

The television 15-rounder is a third and rubber bout between Ortiz, a 30-year-old Purto Rican-born New Yorker, and Laguna, the 24-year-old "Tiger" of Panama.

Laguna dethroned Ortiz in Panama on April 10, 1965, and then was beaten by Ortiz in a return at San Juan, Puerto Rico, seven months later.

Not a single knockdown was scored by either in the 30 rounds. And neither ever has been stopped.

The fight is rated even in the betting—6-5 and take your pick.

Still, Laguna, a skinny 5-too-9 package of punching fury, boasts "I'm going to knock him out. He's getting old and is ready to be taken. I'm going to put the pressure on him and knock him out, maybe in the 10th or 11th round."

"Great, let him put on the heat," retorted Ortiz. "I'll stretch him out. I know what he can do now and I'm gonna blast him out in the 10th or 11th, maybe even sooner."

The bout will be telecast by MSG—Sports Network, Inc., but New York will be blacked out of the live telecast. Starting time is 10 p.m. EDT.

In case of a weather postponement, the fight will be held Thursday.

Ortiz has been guaranteed a minimum of $83,000 or 45 per cect of the gross gate (estimated at $175,000) and $50,000 television receipts. Laguna gets a flat guarantee of $20,000.

Scoring will be by the rounds system.

Warriors File Suit

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The San Francisco Warriors of the National Basketball Association filed a $4.5 million damage suit against singer Pat Boone and others, claiming they induced Rick Barry to breach his Warrior contract and sign with Oakland of the American Basketball Association.

Wins Boat Race

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Bill Wishnick of New York won the first leg of 150 miles Tuesday of the Hennessy Motorboat Cup race. His 32-foot maritime "Big Broad Jumper" edged Odell Lewis, Fond Du Lac, Wis., in another maritime.

Gary Cairns of Ohio State, listed at 234 pounds in 1966, figures to play at 210 pounds this season. He will do the Buckeye kicking.

Roger Rock Captures Scioto Downs Feature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Roger Rock, owned by J. F. and J. H. Cartnale of Newark, won the $1,100 featured pace at Scioto Downs Tuesday night, touring the mile in 2:05 4-5.

Roger Rock paid $8.40, $3.40 and $3.40 while the favorite, Sara Ann Scotch, placed and returned $3.20 and $2.60. Smartly Styled showed for $3.60.

The 3-1 daily double combination of Ruth Ann Abbe and Chief C paid $82.50.

Newell Team To Meet

John Kiger, coach of the Waterford Colts midget football team at Newell, said all boys 9 to 13 who want to participate in midget football are to meet Saturday between 2 and 4 p.m. at the clubhouse behind Young's Grocery Store. They must be accompanied by at least one parent.

Lady Golfers Start Today In Western

PEKIN, Ill. (AP)—Defending champion Mickey Wright will be missing but otherwise a full force of lady pros, led by the season's top money winner, Kathy Whitworth, will tee off Thursday in the $10,000 Women's Western Open.

The 38th Western championship, one of the tour's prestige tournaments, will be played over the demanding Pekin Country Club course that stretches 6,605 yards with a 37-38—5 par. The 72-hole medal meet ends Sunday.

Miss Wright forwarded no reason for skipping the tourney she won last year. But among the entries are four holders of 11 Western Open crowns and many others who rose to prominence through the ranks of WWGA events, starting with its junior meets.

The perennial Patty Berg will be seeking her first victory of the season and her eighth Western Open title. Other former winners are Betty Rawls, twice, and Carol Mann and Susie Maxwell, each once.

Wichita's Glenn Meltzer led the nation in pass receiving last season, gaining 1,115 yards on 91 catches. Four resulted in TDs.

Chicago Bears' Cupboard Bare Except For Spectacular Sayers

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

RENSSELAER, Ind. (AP) — Gale Sayers is the Chicago Bears. When the Kansas comet steps on the field, the Bears sparkle and fizz. Without Sayers the Bears are just another football team with a drab attack.

An unprecedented wave of defections, injuries and retirements and a couple of desperate trades have left the Bears with manpower problems that may take some time to solve. George Halas, the 72-year-old owner-coach, and his staff are working far into the night looking for the answers.

Mike Ditka's departure left a gap at tight end that may only be filled by another trade. Ditka, of course, played out his option with the Bears and forced a trade with Philadelphia that brought Jack Concannon to Chicago.

The retirement of Jon Arnett and Joe Marconi, plus an injury to Ron Bull, has left the Bears with a dangerous shortage of running backs. The retirement of Ed O'Bradovich and the trade of the veteran Doug Atkins stripped both defensive end positions, forcing Halas to rely on rookies or a trade.

Add to these problems the loss of three men to New Orleans in the expansion draft and the trading of Herman Lee and the plight of the Bears is easy to see.

Sayers is the one bright spot in a sea of uncertainty. To fully appreciate Sayers' value to the club it is only necessary to take a look at the 1966 statistics.

As a team the Bears ran for only 1,927 yards. Sayers personally accounted for 1,231 as he captured the rushing title, the first time a halfback has accomplished this feat. He also led the league in kickoff returns, caught 34 passes for 347 yards and threw six passes.

In the Bears' scrimmage with the College All-Stars, Gale hit for a touchdown with an option pass.

Although Halas bridles at any suggestion that Sayers might wind up as a flanker or outside man, there are many who think that may be the eventual answer.

"Why put him out there?" asks Halas. "He led the league in running and he loves it. We probably will get a few more passes to him and, don't forget, he throws a few now and then."

A year ago the Sayers-Andy Livingston was being boomed as the big new threat but Livingston missed the entire season due to knee surgery after an injury in a preseason game with Green Bay. Livingston is reported healthy again but it remains to be seen how the fullback's knee stands up under heavy pounding.

In the shortage of running backs, Charley Bivins has been moved back to his old fullback post from tight end. Bull, who suffered a broken bone in his foot, is scheduled to be back by opening day. Garry Lyle of George Washington has been slowed down by injuries.

When Halas got Concannon, the scrambling quarterback, from Philadelphia, it was assumed he would be No. 1. In fact, Halas said the job was his until somebody beat him out. But Rudy Bukich, who decided to reconsider his decision to quit, has been giving Concannon a fight for the post. Rudy had a bad year in 1966 after enjoying his best season in 1965.

The Bears' receivers are split end Jimmy Jones and flanker Johnny Morris, combing back after knee surgery. In his search for a tight end Halas has used Duane Allen, ex-Ram, 6-foot-7 Charles McLeod of Quad Cities in the minors and rookie Fritz Greenlee of Arizona.

Bob Pickens, a Nebraska rookie, was to have taken over Lee's old job at left tackle but injuries sent him to the hospital. George Seals or Randy Jackson probably will team with Bob Wetoska at the offensive tackle posts. Jim Cadile and Mike Rabold will be the guards and Mike Pyle the center.

Casting around for defensive ends, Halas is using rookie Loyd Phillips of Arkansas, drafted No. 3 as a future a year ago, at left end. Mary Amsler of the Wheeling Ironmen and Terry Oakes of San Francisco State have been trying out at the other end. Frank Cornish and Dick Evey are the tackles although Evey can go to end in a pinch.

The Bears are solid at linebacker with Joe Fortunato, Dick Butkus and Jim Purnell backed by Doug Buffone and Mike Reilly. In the deep defense the veterans Rosey Taylor, Richie Petitbon and Bennie McRae are set but rookie Joe Taylor of the Continental League team in Toronto has been battling Curt Gentry for a corner job.

Roger Leclerc's place kicking job may be in danger from rookies Bruce Amsler of Texas Christian and Rick Duncan of East Montana State who also is coming off his poorest season as the regular punter.

Field Of 10 Expected For W. Va. Derby

A field of 10 and possibly 12 is expected to be named Wednesday for the seventh running of the West Virginia Derby. The Derby, top offering of the Waterford Park meeting, will be run over the Waterford Park track Friday night. It carries an added value of $7,500 and probably will gross more than $10,000. The distance is one mile and one eighth.

Heading the field will be Air Boat, a hard charging Florida-bred which won the West Virginia Derby Prep race last Friday. Air Boat, owned by Boyd Finnell of Vinita, Oklahoma, stumped the prep field with a scintillating performance with a substitute jockey aboard. In taking the measure of the Canadian invader, Mr. Sin, he forced the Canadian camp to send for help, which arrived yesterday in the form of More Of Mort, a Canadian-bred colt which recently captured the Quebec Derby.

More Of Mort will run as an entry with My Sin with one of the pair going after the lead to set a fast pace and kill off the sprinters and the other staying within striking distance, reserving his speed for that final lunge to the wire.

In addition to the Canadian pair and the prep race winner, others entered are Mask Right, a fourth place finisher in the prep; the Pennsylvania - bred pair of Michelangela and Dubois Frau, the latter the pacesetter in the prep, and Fred Nick, Jr., the favorite in the prep which finished fifth after a very poor start.

There's also Mike Douglas, the Ohio-bred colt owned by Dr. D. C. Sterns of Cleveland; Mighty John W., Harold Queen's speed merchant, and from Chicago unbeaten Fleeting Chance.

SIGN WITH OAKS — All American Wes Bialosuknia of the University of Connecticut signed a three-year contract with the Oakland Oaks of the new American Basketball Association yesterday.

Nervous Officials Hope For Ortiz-Laguna KO

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Both lightweight champion Carlos Ortiz and challenger Ismael Laguna predict knockout victories tonight. If either comes through with a kayo jolt it could make for the best kind of finish to the widely criticized title fight at Shea Stadium.

This is the fight that Police Commissioner Howard Leary said New York could do without this riot-troubled summer.

Leary also had in mind the three missile-throwing riots within a 21-months span at Madison Square Garden following three decisions against main eventers of Puerto Rican descent.

The television 15-rounder is a third and rubber bout between Ortiz, a 30-year-old Purto Rican-born New Yorker, and Laguna, the 24-year-old "Tiger" of Panama.

Laguna dethroned Ortiz in Panama on April 10, 1965, and then was beaten by Ortiz in a return at San Juan, Puerto Rico, seven months later.

Not a single knockdown was scored by either in the 30 rounds. And neither ever has been stopped.

The fight is rated even in the betting—6-5 and take your pick.

Still, Laguna, a skinny 5-too-9 package of punching fury, boasts "I'm going to knock him out. He's getting old and is ready to be taken. I'm going to put the pressure on him and knock him out, maybe in the 10th or 11th round."

"Great, let him put on the heat," retorted Ortiz. "I'll stretch him out. I know what he can do now and I'm gonna blast him out in the 10th or 11th, maybe even sooner."

The bout will be telecast by MSG—Sports Network, Inc., but New York will be blacked out of the live telecast. Starting time is 10 p.m. EDT.

In case of a weather postponement, the fight will be held Thursday.

Ortiz has been guaranteed a minimum of $83,000 or 45 per cect of the gross gate (estimated at $175,000) and $50,000 television receipts. Laguna gets a flat guarantee of $20,000.

Scoring will be by the rounds system.

Warriors File Suit

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The San Francisco Warriors of the National Basketball Association filed a $4.5 million damage suit against singer Pat Boone and others, claiming they induced Rick Barry to breach his Warrior contract and sign with Oakland of the American Basketball Association.

Wins Boat Race

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Bill Wishnick of New York won the first leg of 150 miles Tuesday of the Hennessy Motorboat Cup race. His 32-foot maritime "Big Broad Jumper" edged Odell Lewis, Fond Du Lac, Wis., in another maritime.

Gary Cairns of Ohio State, listed at 234 pounds in 1966, figures to play at 210 pounds this season. He will do the Buckeye kicking.

Lady Golfers Start Today In Western

PEKIN, Ill. (AP) — Defending champion Mickey Wright will be missing but otherwise a full force of lady pros, led by the season's top money winner, Kathy Whitworth, will tee off Thursday in the $10,000 Women's Western Open.

The 38th Western championship, one of the tour's prestige tournaments, will be played over the demanding Pekin Country Club course that stretches 6,605 yards with a 37-38—5 par. The 72-hole medal meet ends Sunday.

Miss Wright forwarded no reason for skipping the tourney she won last year. But among the entries are four holders of 11 Western Open crowns and many others who rose to prominence through the ranks of WWGA events, starting with its junior meets.

The perennial Patty Berg will be seeking her first victory of the season and her eighth Western Open title. Other former winners are Betty Rawls, twice, and Carol Mann and Susie Maxwell, each once.

Wichita's Glenn Meltzer led the nation in pass receiving last season, gaining 1,115 yards on 91 catches. Four resulted in TDs.

Roger Rock Captures Scioto Downs Feature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Roger Rock, owned by J. F. and J. H. Cartnale of Newark, won the $1,100 featured pace at Scioto Downs Tuesday night, touring the mile in 2:05 4-5.

Roger Rock paid $8.40, $3.40 and $3.40 while the favorite, Sara Ann Scotch, placed and returned $3.20 and $2.60. Smartly Styled showed for $3.60.

The 3-1 daily double combination of Ruth Ann Abbe and Chief C paid $82.50.

Newell Team To Meet

John Kiger, coach of the Waterford Colts midget football team at Newell, said all boys 9 to 13 who want to participate in midget football are to meet Saturday between 2 and 4 p.m. at the clubhouse behind Young's Grocery Store. They must be accompanied by at least one parent.

Financing Red Terrorism In Hong Kong

Scotland Yard On Trail Of Gold Smuggling Ring

LONDON (AP) — Scotland Yard police believe they are on the trail of an international gold smuggling ring financing Chinese Communist terrorism and rioting in Hong Kong, police sources said today.

Submachine guns, rifles, revolvers, ammunition and molds for counterfeit coins were uncovered in raids Tuesday on a rambling Bedfordshire farmhouse and a bakery shop in Middlesex.

Sources said the detention of several British businessmen who make regular trips abroad is planned. Messages were dispatched to Interpol and other police forces in continental Europ and in the Far East.

Former British speedway ace Francis "Squire" Waterman, 45, and his fiancee, Avril Priston, 38, were charged Tuesday with attempted illegal exportation of gold. Customs officers stripped Waterman's car as it was about to be taken aboard a French ferry at Newhaven, England. They found $28,000 in gold bars.

British intelligence reports show that recent troubles and riots in the British colony of Hong Kong have doubled the price of gold on the black market. The bullion is said to be urgently needed to help finance the Communist-led rioting against British colonial authority and to supply arms and ammunition.

Communist attempts to cripple British authority have so far been frustrated. More than 3,000 persons have been arrested on charges of terrorism and rioting, and Hong Kong police have smashed dozens of Communist headquarters and hideouts, seizing large stores of weapons and explosives.

Police raided the red-brick country house at Bedfordshire at dawn Tuesday. Bullets and gun bores of arms found there were matched with shells known to have been used in some of England's biggst armed gold thefts.

Officers collected dies for counterfeiting and other forgery equipment from the house and outbuildings. Half an ounce of gold and what appeared to be traces of gold were found in a shed.

At the bakery, in the northern suburbs of London, metal crucibles that can be used for smelting were seized and examined by experts.

Well over $2.8 million worth of gold bullion has been stolen in London alone in the past three years. Little has been retrieved.

Youth Hurts Foot On Nail

A city youth hurt on a nail was treated Tuesday at City Hospital as were 12 other area residents Monday and Tuesday.

Donald Blystone, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Blystone of Drain St., sustained a laceration of the left foot on a rusty nail.

Also treated Tuesday were Bruce Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Denzil Walker of New Cumberland RD 2, a laceration of the right hand on a bicycle; Eugene Conto of Newell, a jockey at Waterford Park, right hand injury when a horse fell.

Joseph Liebovitz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Liebovitz of 943 Lisbon St., a laceration of the lip in a fall; Robin Sprouse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dovener Sprouse of 1056 Jennings Ave., a sprained ankle while playing.

Jessie Raymond Jackson, son of Mrs. Vera Jackson of Glenmoor, a possible fracture of the left elbow while playing.

Treated Monday were Philip Fuhrer of 317 Thompson Ave., employed at the Hall China Co., a puncture wound of the left foot on a nail at work; Crystal Garren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Garren of Kensington RD 1, a skull contusion in a fall down steps.

If a stew or soup is too salty, add a sliced raw potato and boil 5 minutes. Remove the potato.

Nuclear Proliferation Discussed For Rotary

"The United States must bide its time and hope other countries will see the problem," Lt. Robert W. Gilmore said Tuesday in a discussion of "Nuclear Proliferation" at the Rotary Club meeting in the Travelers Hotel.

Gilmore, son of Dr. Edith Gilmore and the late Dr. William Gilmore, was graduated last June from the Air Force Academy and will enter Duke University School of Medicine next week.

Gilmore's remarks were based on a seminar held last year at the academy. He said the positive reasons for a country possessing nuclear weapons include security, prestige and "blackmail," the last involving implied power.

Cost, bargaining power, political moraiity and military concerns were listed as large nuclear reasons why storehouses should be avoided.

Gilmore said stopping nuclear proliferation is difficult because treaties are not realistic. An end to testing would "solve some problems," he stated, and a non-nuclear zone, such as the case is in South America, is another answer.

Non-possession of the weapons as an official policy, as is the case in Scandanavia, also was listed as a means of control.

The best way, Gilmore ended, would be United Nations control of all nuclear weapons under a UN police force. The prestige of that body would have to rise before the idea could work, however, he explained.

Mike Turk was program chairman.

Frank C. Dawson presided.

CANCER STATISTICS ARE FRIGHTENING

The Strang Clinic in New York City, famed for cancer detection, recently reported that one in every 100 patients past 40 who feel well and appear to have good health probably has cancer. Fortunately, reported Dr. Emerson Day, the Strang Clinic director, most of these cancers can be diagnosed by the family physician.

When discovered and treated at this presymptomatic stage, the chance of a cure is increased greatly. These facts of life or death make it imperative that every adult get regular health checkups.

The bullion is said to be urgently needed to help finance the Communist-led rioting against British colonial authority and to supply arms and ammunition.

Communist attempts to cripple British authority have so far been frustrated. More than 3,000 persons have been arrested on charges of terrorism and rioting, and Hong Kong police have smashed dozens of Communist headquarters and hideouts, seizing large stores of weapons and explosives.

Police raided the red-brick country house at Bedfordshire at dawn Tuesday. Bullets and gun bores of arms found there were matched with shells known to have been used in some of England's biggst armed gold thefts.

Officers collected dies for counterfeiting and other forgery equipment from the house and outbuildings. Half an ounce of gold and what appeared to be traces of gold were found in a shed.

At the bakery, in the northern suburbs of London, metal crucibles that can be used for smelting were seized and examined by experts.

Well over $2.8 million worth of gold bullion has been stolen in London alone in the past three years. Little has been retrieved.

Youth Hurts Foot On Nail

A city youth hurt on a nail was treated Tuesday at City Hospital as were 12 other area residents Monday and Tuesday.

Donald Blystone, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Blystone of Drain St., sustained a laceration of the left foot on a rusty nail.

Also treated Tuesday were Bruce Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Denzil Walker of New Cumberland RD 2, a laceration of the right hand on a bicycle; Eugene Conto of Newell, a jockey at Waterford Park, right hand injury when a horse fell.

Joseph Liebovitz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Liebovitz of 943 Lisbon St., a laceration of the lip in a fall; Robin Sprouse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dovener Sprouse of 1056 Jennings Ave., a sprained ankle while playing.

Mildred Lane of Grimms Bridge Rd., multiple lacerations of the left second finger on a power saw; Wilbur Baird of Leetonia, a laceration of the right index finger in a car door.

Jessie Raymond Jackson, son of Mrs. Vera Jackson of Glenmoor, a possible fracture of the left elbow while playing.

Treated Monday were Philip Fuhrer of 317 Thompson Ave., employed at the Hall China Co., a puncture wound of the left foot on a nail at work; Crystal Garren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Garren of Kensington RD 1, a skull contusion in a fall down steps.

If a stew or soup is too salty, add a sliced raw potato and boil 5 minutes. Remove the potato.

Nuclear Proliferation Discussed For Rotary

"The United States must bide its time and hope other countries will see the problem," Lt. Robert W. Gilmore said Tuesday in a discussion of "Nuclear Proliferation" at the Rotary Club meeting in the Travelers Hotel.

Gilmore, son of Dr. Edith Gilmore and the late Dr. William Gilmore, was graduated last June from the Air Force Academy and will enter Duke University School of Medicine next week.

Gilmore's remarks were based on a seminar held last year at the academy. He said the positive reasons for a country possessing nuclear weapons include security, prestige and "blackmail," the last involving implied power.

Cost, bargaining power, political moraiity and military concerns were listed as large nuclear reasons why storehouses should be avoided.

Gilmore said stopping nuclear proliferation is difficult because treaties are not realistic. An end to testing would "solve some problems," he stated, and a non-nuclear zone, such as the case is in South America, is another answer.

Non-possession of the weapons as an official policy, as is the case in Scandanavia, also was listed as a means of control.

The best way, Gilmore ended, would be United Nations control of all nuclear weapons under a UN police force. The prestige of that body would have to rise before the idea could work, however, he explained.

Mike Turk was program chairman.

Frank C. Dawson presided.

CANCER STATISTICS ARE FRIGHTENING

The Strang Clinic in New York City, famed for cancer detection, recently reported that one in every 100 patients past 40 who feel well and appear to have good health probably has cancer. Fortunately, reported Dr. Emerson Day, the Strang Clinic director, most of these cancers can be diagnosed by the family physician.

When discovered and treated at this presymptomatic stage, the chance of a cure is increased greatly. These facts of life or death make it imperative that every adult get regular health checkups.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Friends: I have been experimenting lately with chocolate fudge recipes (especially ones that call for marshmallows) and have found a fantastic way to make one batch of it into three different flavors with no extra pots, pans or effort.

Now listen to this:

Set aside three little cake pans to pour your batter in BEFORE you even start cooking your fudge. Line each pan with plastic wrap. (It will not stick to teflon.)

As soon as your fudge is ready to pour, put only one-third of it in the first pan.

Add three heaping tablespoons of dry powdered cocoa and one tablespoon of imitation brandy extract (cherry or orange flavors are also excellent) to the rest of the mixture. Stir it quickly until it completely dissolves and pour some more in the second pan. This will give you a DARK bittersweet fudge with a taste all its very own.

Now, you're left with one-third of your goodie. The last is the very best of all and will make such a great concoction tht you'll wonder where your original recipe went!

Quickly sprinkle three big spoons (according to the size recipe you're using — I use a big one) of instant coffee on the remaining fudge. ADD NOTHING ELSE. Mix well and dump this into your last pan.

You've got the most delicious bitter-coffee-sweets you ever shook a stick at.

You'll absolutely drool. Wonderful for after dinner desserts and at parties, too.

And think: Three different kinds of candies came out of one recipe with very little extra effort on your part.

Try it next time.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Instead of using cotton between the front and back of a summer quilt, I used a plain white summer flannel blanket.

After many launderings, it still stays nice and smooth and never mats like ordinary batting.

MRS. V. L. WILSON.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: By the way . . . when trying to catch mosquitos "by hand," try wetting your hand with some water!

It works every time because those gauzy wings stick to the moisture on your hands instead of slipping through them when you open your fist to see if you got him.

GRACE T.

Grace, I thought this was funny, but my husband said it's a good hint and it works. You see, I let him catch the mosquitos.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Do you have that "odd sock" problem at laundry time?

I solved this one by hanging (or you can glue) a clothespin over my clothes dryer.

When all the laundry is folded, I clip any odd socks to the clothespin and wait for the next batch of clean clothes.

The mate usually shows up after one or two more loads and I have the matching one all ready to put with it.

LYN MOSHER.

DEAR HELOISE: I am an avid house plant grower and have discovered a good way to cover the hole in the bottom of the flower pot in order to keep the proper moisture in the soil.

Having no stones handy, I cut up a sponge to fit the bottom of the pot.

As the sponge retains moisture very well, this method has given me much nicer plants — especially great for African violets.

MRS. M. CULLEY.

DEAR HELOISE: This is for women who give knitted and crocheted articles as gifts:

Tells Of Shots, Seeing Bodies

Guard Officer Testifies In Detroit Riot Slayings

DETROIT (AP) — A National Guard warrant officer has told a court he was on duty at the height of predawn sniping during the city's riots last month when he heard shots fired a block away near a motel annex and went to investigate.

Theodore J. Thomas testified Tuesday in Recorder's (Criminal) Court that he saw the bodies of two Negro youths lying in separate rooms in the annex. Thomas said he saw a white policeman—whom he identified as Patrolman Ronald August—take a Negro youth to one of the rooms where he had seen a body. Thomas told his story at the preliminary examination of August and fellow Detroit Patrolman Robert Paille. The officers are charged with first degree murder in the deaths of two of three Negro youths shot in the annex the morning of July 26.

Thomas said a uniformed man had given a shotgun to August. The guardsman said another man asked the patrolman: "Do you want to kill one?"

"I said, 'you can't kill them here—there are too many people around'," Thomas said.

"I heard a shot and then heard something fall to the ground," Thomas said. "I saw August come out of the room alone."

"I told the police this was strictly their business and left the building," Thomas said.

Thomas was the main witness in the second day of the examination.

August is accused of shooting Fred Temple, 18, and Paille is charged with the murder of Aubrey Pollard, 19. The death of the third youth, Carl Cooper, 17, is still under investigation.

"When I entered the building, I saw people lined up against a wall," Thomas said. "I saw an officer strike a man with a pistol butt.

"Patrolman August was very refined—he didn't say anything."

Defense attorney Norman Lippitt asked: "You mean he was not bullying people about?"

"Yes, sir," Thomas replied.

Thomas said the uniformed men were taking youths into rooms to scare those still in the hall. "We were searching for weapons," he said. "We were concerned about someone having weapons. "We wanted the people in the hall to believe someone in the room had been shot or beaten," he continued. "I though it was better to create an illusion than to beat people in the hall."

Thomas said he went into a room with one Negro youth, told the youth to lie on the floor and fired a shot at the ceiling from his rifle. "One of the officers winked at me to show it was all right," he said.

Avery Weiswasser, the prosecuting attorney, asked: "Did you know whether anybody told Patrolman August it was only a game?"

"No, sir," Thomas replid.

Charles Schlachter, senior detective for the Detroit Police Homicide Bureau, said all police officers who were at the motel the morning of the shootings were called to the Homicide Bureau to make reports about their activities at the motel.

Boy Injured In Blast In Critical Condition

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— A Morrow County boy injured in an explosion which claimed the life of his brother remained in critical condition at Children's Hospital here today.

The injured boy, Clay Piper, 8, of Cardington, suffered burns over 75 to 95 percent of his body in the Tuesday blast which fatally injured his brother, Henry, 10, who died in the hospital Tuesday night.

Authorities said the brothers were at a vacant house across the road from their home when one of them apparently dropped a match into a gasoline storage tank.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Friends: I have been experimenting lately with chocolate fudge recipes (especially ones that call for marshmallows) and have found a fantastic way to make one batch of it into three different flavors with no extra pots, pans or effort.

Now listen to this:

Set aside three little cake pans to pour your batter in BEFORE you even start cooking your fudge. Line each pan with plastic wrap. (It will not stick to teflon.)

As soon as your fudge is ready to pour, put only one-third of it in the first pan.

Add three heaping tablespoons of dry powdered cocoa and one tablespoon of imitation brandy extract (cherry or orange flavors are also excellent) to the rest of the mixture. Stir it quickly until it completely dissolves and pour some more in the second pan. This will give you a DARK bittersweet fudge with a taste all its very own.

Now, you're left with one-third of your goodie. The last is the very best of all and will make such a great concoction tht you'll wonder where your original recipe went!

Quickly sprinkle three big spoons (according to the size recipe you're using — I use a big one) of instant coffee on the remaining fudge. ADD NOTHING ELSE. Mix well and dump this into your last pan.

You've got the most delicious bitter-coffee-sweets you ever shook a stick at.

You'll absolutely drool. Wonderful for after dinner desserts and at parties, too.

And think: Three different kinds of candies came out of one recipe with very little extra effort on your part.

Try it next time.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Instead of using cotton between the front and back of a summer quilt, I used a plain white summer flannel blanket.

After many launderings, it still stays nice and smooth and never mats like ordinary batting.

MRS. V. L. WILSON.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: By the way . . . when trying to catch mosquitos "by hand," try wetting your hand with some water!

It works every time because those gauzy wings stick to the moisture on your hands instead of slipping through them when you open your fist to see if you got him.

GRACE T.

Grace, I thought this was funny, but my husband said it's a good hint and it works. You see, I let him catch the mosquitos.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Do you have that "odd sock" problem at laundry time?

I solved this one by hanging (or you can glue) a clothespin over my clothes dryer.

When all the laundry is folded, I clip any odd socks to the clothespin and wait for the next batch of clean clothes.

The mate usually shows up after one or two more loads and I have the matching one all ready to put with it.

LYN MOSHER.

DEAR HELOISE: I am an avid house plant grower and have discovered a good way to cover the hole in the bottom of the flower pot in order to keep the proper moisture in the soil.

Having no stones handy, I cut up a sponge to fit the bottom of the pot.

As the sponge retains moisture very well, this method has given me much nicer plants — especially great for African violets.

Planners Get Family Study

A report of a survey on characteristics of families occupying inferior housing in East Liverpool was presented to the East Liverpool Planning Commission at a meeting Tuesday night.

Daniel Ziegler, representative of the Carroll Hill Associates, planning consultants, reported on the survey.

In other action, the commission took under study a request from the Columbiana Metropolitan Housing Authority that local zoning ordinances not apply to the housing projects of the Authority if the ordinances differ from federal requirements.

The Housing Authority said it is obliged to meet federal requirements on the projects.

Bills for various expenses connected with planning projects were reviewed, and payment deferred until funds are available. They included $563 for preparation of documents applying for an urban transportation study, $235 for drafting a copy of the city's zoning ordinance map, and $17 for engraving the map.

The commission voted to delay action on a proposal to vacate the Quarterman and Wakefield property of Ogden St.

The next meeting will be Aug. 21.

Willshaw Reports On Conference

Only State Funds Set For Marina

Mayor George E. Willshaw said today federal funds for a proposed marina in the East End will not be available, but said the Ohio Department of Natural Resources notified him state funds amounting to some $75,000 are still on hand when the city is able to raise its share.

Willshaw reported his findings after a meeting held Monday in Columbus by the resources department explaining how federal land and water conservation fund money will be distributed throughout the state.

More than 2,000 city, county, village and township officials attended the conference at the state fairgrounds.

—:—

WILLSHAW explained the money is obtained from the sale of golden eagle stamps (permits for federal parks), federal taxes on motorboat fuel and proceeds from the sale of excess federal land.

Sixty per cent of the money is diverted to the states, he added, while the remainder is appropriated to federal agencies.

The total federal funds available to Ohio are $881,352.

Willshaw explained the state has been divided into eight regions, with funds proportioned on a population basis.

East Liverpool lies in a region with such cities as Cleveland, Akron and Youngstown, known as the Lake - Shore Uplands Region comprised of 16 counties. The area's share will be $372,900 because the district has 42.31 per cent of the state's population.

Willshaw said he had intended to make application for funding the marina and ball fields at the city's landfill site.

He declared no money would be available from the federal agency, however, because the city already owns the property on which the marina would be located.

Wilshaw said he visited Youngstown on the return trip and talked with Maj. William Widner, inspector - instructor of the Marine Corps Reserve at Youngstown.

—:—

THE MAYOR said he had been informed earlier the city could obtain the aid of the Marine engineers for the proposed ball fields and other city projects.

Maj. Widner and Capt. L. E. Wood met with the mayor and told him the corps will try to assist the city.

Capt. Wood said he will visit East Liverpool early in September to confer with City Engineer George Bloomgren and the park commissioners on various projects for the municipality.

Willshaw said he will turn over the information he obtained during the trip to the Park Commission. He noted any land it might have in mind for future development would probably qualify for federal money as long as the commission has not purchased it or declared intentions of purchasing a specific parcel.

Oct. 15 is the deadline for filing applications for the current fiscal year.

Resources Department officials told Willshaw they will contact the city about Aug. 23 or 24 concerning the marina project.

The city must pay approximately $37,000 and purchase the land for the installation.

Willshaw said notification that state funds are still available for the marina came during a consultation with Resources Department officials after the federal conference.

The Conservation Fund Act was passed in 1965 by Congress and during the first two years over $5 million was received by ment for state projects. It provided for local subdivisions to begin receiving a percentage of the money this year.

Willshaw also told of a conference with State Sen. John Longsworth, who assured the mayor the state's share of money for the proposed county airport is still available.

Bills for various expenses connected with planning projects were reviewed, and payment deferred until funds are available. They included $553 for preparation of documents appliyng for an urban transportation study, $235 for drafting a copy of the city's zoning ordinance map, and $17 for engraving the map.

Willshaw Reports On Conference

Only State Funds Set For Marina

Mayor George E. Willshaw said today federal funds for a proposed marina in the East End will not be available, but said the Ohio Department of Natural Resources notified him state funds amounting to some $75,000 are still on hand when the city is able to raise its share.

Willshaw reported his findings after a meeting held Monday in Columbus by the resources department explaining how federal land and water conservation fund money will be distributed throughout the state.

More than 2,000 city, county, village and township officials attended the conference at the state fairgrounds.

—:—

WILLSHAW explained the money is obtained from the sale of golden eagle stamps (permits for federal parks), federal taxes on motorboat fuel and proceeds from the sale of excess federal land.

Sixty per cent of the money is diverted to the states, he added, while the remainder is appropriated to federal agencies.

The total federal funds available to Ohio are $881,352.

Willshaw explained the state has been divided into eight regions, with funds proportioned on a population basis.

East Liverpool lies in a region with such cities as Cleveland, Akron and Youngstown, known as the Lake - Shore Uplands Region comprised of 16 counties. The area's share will be $372,900 because the district has 42.31 per cent of the state's population.

Willshaw said he had intended to make application for funding the marina and ball fields at the city's landfill site.

He declared no money would be available from the federal agency, however, because the city already owns the property on which the marina would be located.

Willshaw said he visited Youngstown on the return trip and talked with Maj. William Widner, inspector - instructor of the Marine Corps Reserve at Youngstown.

—:—

THE MAYOR said he had been informed earlier the city could obtain the aid of the Marine engineers for the proposed ball fields and other city projects.

Maj. Widner and Capt. L. E. Wood met with the mayor and told him the corps will try to assist the city.

Capt. Wood said he will visit East Liverpool early in September to confer with City Engineer George Bloomgren and the park commissioners on various projects for the municipality.

Willshaw said he will turn over the information he obtained during the trip to the Park Commission. He noted any land it might have in mind for future development would probably qualify for federal money as long as the commission has not purchased it or declared intentions of purchasing a specific parcel.

Oct. 15 is the deadline for filing applications for the current fiscal year.

Resources Department officials told Willshaw they will contact the city about Aug. 23 or 24 concerning the marina project.

The city must pay approximately $37,000 and purchase the land for the installation.

Willshaw said notification that state funds are still available for the marina came during a consultation with Resources Department officials after the federal conference.

The Conservation Fund Act was passed in 1965 by Congress and during the first two years over $5 million was received by the natural resources department for state projects. It provided for local subdivisions to begin receiving a percentage of the money this year.

Willshaw also told of a conference with State Sen. John Longsworth, who assured the mayor the state's share of money for the proposed county airport is still available.

How Backus Got Into TV

Hal Humphrey is on vacation. Today's guest column is written by Jim Backus, the voice of Mr. Magoo and currently Thurston Howell III in "Gilligan's Island.")

Not too long ago I was making a very comfortable if not inspired living in motion pictures playing best friends.

In those days there were set and definite rules for the playing of best friends. First of all, the best friend could have no personal glamour and the sex life of an amoeba. I was invariably teamed with the heroine's best friend, who was always as drab as I was.

-:-

THE BEST FRIEND spent a lot of his time sitting with the heroine in stadiums and at best holding her hand when things got tense.

(In four years of B.F.ing I never got to kiss the girl. The sexiest thing I ever did in pictures was the time I shot a furtive glance at Marjorie Main's derriere in a Ma and Pa Kettle picture, where I was a fural best friend.)

Now to get on with the rules — the B.F. must get the train tickets and get the leads to the station on time. He must show up with a wedding ring at the last moment, and in comedy sequences must lend the leading man his trousers.

THE WORK was something, but $1,500 a week isn't hay and who was I to complain? Then a little thing called television came along to shatter the motion picture industry and shake me out of my lethargy. Up until then, television had been something that nobody in the picture business paid any attention to.

TV then, as everyone remembers, consisted mainly of baseball, wrestling, cooking demonstrations, vintage English movies and a few panel shows. In those days television didn't pay any money at all.

A producer who had a panel show, and the nerve to ask you to appear on it, would offer you in lieu of cash a mixer, a carton of foot pads, a bottle of perfume, a tire (which was great if you happened to own a unicycle) and, as a clincher, a vacuum cleaner.

IT'S A GOOD thing that this practice of paying by producers came to a halt. Otherwise it might have shattered our economic system. Instead of having gold buried in Ft. Knox, we'd have cases and cases of Dad's Old-Fashioned Root Beer.

In disgust, my wife Henny and I decided to go back to New York. In the middle of packing I got a call from my agent.

"Jim," he said, "get over to the William Morris office, they want you to make a pilot."

"Make a pilot?" I replied. He then explained that making a pilot was auditioning for a proposed television show on film and that they would pay me. This pilot that I made turned out to be "I Married Joan," which ran for three years.

-:-

WE MADE the series at General Service Studios, which at that time was a matriarchy. By that I mean all the stars on the lot were women.

There was "Our Miss Brooks" starring Eve Arden, "I Love Lucy" starring Lucille Ball, the Ann Sothern Show starring Ann Sothern, Burns and Allen starring (sorry about that, George) Gracie Allen and, of course, "I Married Joan" starring Joan Davis.

They didn't have a wall around the studio — they had a giant girdle. Since Joan owned the show I can tell you I am the only man who ever came home with lipstick on his pay check.

I spent five long days each week being husband to Joan Davis. That is more time than I spent with Henny.

ON FRIDAY NIGHTS when I finished a long, tough week's work, Henny would have everything in order. The house was full of flowers. She was in her prettiest negligee. Drinks were ready on the coffee table.

In the middle of the third drink I would give Henny a direct cue which meant she was allowed to talk. Now it was time to turn on "I Married Joan" on the magic box. For every laugh we toasted each other with jubilant swigs. For each dull thud we took grim gulps.

I spent three years working in "I Married Joan," then one year on the Jim Backus Show (or "Hot Off the Wire") and three years in "The Adventures of Mr. Magoo." And as Henny and I sit here in our house in Bel-Air looking through our picture window at the garden, our eyes close and we silently say, "Thank you, television, and most of all thank you, "Gilligan's Island"!

Brown Cited In Dayton On Race Violence

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Police here are carrying a warrant for Black Power advocate H. Rap Brown, accusing him of touching off racial disturbances on the city's West Side June 15.

Brown, who gave a speech here before a group of Negroes preceding the disturbances, has been charged with advocating criminal syndicalism, police disclosed Tuesday.

Brown is head of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee.

The charge was filed in municipal court Aug. 1 But it was not made public until Tuesday when a Dayton Journal-Herald reporter who had been on vacation for two weeks found the charge while going through court records.

Brown faces another charge in Cambridge, Md., where a grand jury recently indicted him for inciting to riot as a result of that city's racial disturbances this summer.

Anyone convincted of violating the state criminal syndicalism statute—which prohibits advocating the necessity or propriety of crime, sabotage, violence or unlawful methods of terrorism as a means of accomplishing reform—faces a $5,000 fine and 1-10 years in prison.

Police said, however, Brown probably won't be served with the warrant unless he returns to Dayton. Brown has no known appearances scheduled here, but is due to speak in Cincinnati Saturday.

Police Chief Robert Igleburger said he learned only Tuesday that the charge had been filed against Brown. Igleburger, who assumed duties as police chief the day the charge was filed, noted, however, that such action had been discussed for some time.

Police Maj. Grover O'Conner, who was acting as captain of detectives at the time, said he filed the charge and that it will be presented to the grand jury soon.

When he was asked why it had not been announced earlier, the chief said, "we weren't thinking of executing the warrant outside the city."

3 New Members Are Enrolled By Legion Post 374

Three new members were enrolled during a meeting of American Legion Post 374 Monday night. They are Joseph Young, Sam R. Clutter and Carl Petterson.

Vincent McGeehan and Robert Milne reported on a recent County Council meeting. They said the next meeting will be Sept. 2 at Leetonia.

Westinghouse Plans New A-Power Facility

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Westinghouse Electric Corp. has announced plans to construct a facility to house its atomic power operations.

Plans announced Tuesday call for construction on 200 acres in nearby Monroeville. No manufacturing will be performed.

The headquarters will be ready by 1970 with initial employment of 1,500, the company said. The center is part of a $370 million expansion program.

Missionary Society Will Meet Thursday

HAMMONDSVILLE — The Grants Hill United Presbyterian Church Missionary Society will meet Thursday night in the church.

Mrs. Mary Baker will be in charge of the lesson study.

A wiener roast on the lawn will follow the meeting.

Protests To Reds

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP) — The U.N. Command protested to communist North Korea today against the ambush of a U.S. Army truck south of Korea's demilitarized zone last Thursday which killed three American soldiers.

Attacked by an enemy, many animals flee in a very erratic way, zigzagging, wildly bouncing or even spinning. Zoologists believe this behavior disorients the predator's attack and aids escape.

W.Va. October Draft Call Trimmed To 161

CHARLESTON (AP) — West Virginia's draft quota for October has been trimmed to 161, which is 60 less than the call for September, Brig. Gen. Gene H. Williams said today.

Williams, the state adjutant general and state Selective Service director, said the lower West Virginia call reflects a national trend. He said the national October call is for 17,000 men, the lowest quota in six months.

The Army national call in September was for 25,000 men, he said.

Out Of The Air

How Backus Got Into TV

Hal Humphrey is on vacation. Today's guest column is written by Jim Backus, the voice of Mr. Magoo and currently Thurston Howell III in "Gilligan's Island.")

Not too long ago I was making a very comfortable if not inspired living in motion pictures playing best friends.

In those days there were set and definite rules for the playing of best friends. First of all, the best friend could have no personal glamour and the sex life of an amoeba. I was invariably teamed with the heroine's best friend, who was always as drab as I was.

-:-

THE BEST FRIEND spent a lot of his time sitting with the heroine in stadiums and at best holding her hand when things got tense.

(In four years of B.F.ing I never got to kiss the girl. The sexiest thing I ever did in pictures was the time I shot a furtive glance at Marjorie Main's derriere in a Ma and Pa Kettle picture, where I was a fural best friend.)

Now to get on with the rules — the B.F. must get the train tickets and get the leads to the station on time. He must show up with a wedding ring at the last moment, and in comedy sequences must lend the leading man his trousers.

THE WORK was something, but $1,500 a week isn't hay and who was I to complain? Then a little thing called television came along to shatter the motion picture industry and shake me out of my lethargy. Up until then, television had been something that nobody in the picture business paid any attention to.

TV then, as everyone remembers, consisted mainly of baseball, wrestling, cooking demonstrations, vintage English movies and a few panel shows. In those days television didn't pay any money at all.

A producer who had a panel show, and the nerve to ask you to appear on it, would offer you in lieu of cash a mixer, a carton of foot pads, a bottle of perfume, a tire (which was great if you happened to own a unicycle) and, as a clincher, a vacuum cleaner.

IT'S A GOOD thing that this practice of paying by producers came to a halt. Otherwise it might have shattered our economic system. Instead of having gold buried in Ft. Knox, we'd have cases and cases of Dad's Old-Fashioned Root Beer.

In disgust, my wife Henny and I decided to go back to New York. In the middle of packing I got a call from my agent.

"Jim," he said, "get over to the William Morris office, they want you to make a pilot."

"Make a pilot?" I replied. He then explained that making a pilot was auditioning for a proposed television show on film and that they would pay me. This pilot that I made turned out to be "I Married Joan," which ran for three years.

-:-

WE MADE the series at General Service Studios, which at that time was a matriarchy. By that I mean all the stars on the lot were women.

There was "Our Miss Brooks" starring Eve Arden, "I Love Lucy" starring Lucille Ball, the Ann Sothern Show starring Ann Sothern, Burns and Allen starring (sorry about that, George) Gracie Allen and, of course, "I Married Joan" starring Joan Davis.

They didn't have a wall around the studio — they had a giant girdle. Since Joan owned the show I can tell you I am the only man who ever came home with lipstick on his pay check.

I spent five long days each week being husband to Joan Davis. That is more time than I spent with Henny.

ON FRIDAY NIGHTS when I finished a long, tough week's work, Henny would have everything in order. The house was full of flowers. She was in her prettiest negligee. Drinks were ready on the coffee table.

In the middle of the third drink I would give Henny a direct cue which meant she was allowed to talk. Now it was time to turn on "I Married Joan" on the magic box. For every laugh we toasted each other with jubilant swigs. For each dull thud we took grim gulps.

I spent three years working in "I Married Joan," then one year on the Jim Backus Show (or "Hot Off the Wire") and three years in "The Adventures of Mr. Magoo." And as Henny and I sit here in our house in Bel-Air looking through our picture window at the garden, our eyes close and we silently say, "Thank you, television, and most of all thank you, "Gilligan's Island"!

Brown Cited In Dayton On Race Violence

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Police here are carrying a warrant for Black Power advocate H. Rap Brown, accusing him of touching off racial disturbances on the city's West Side June 15.

Brown, who gave a speech here before a group of Negroes preceding the disturbances, has been charged with advocating criminal syndicalism, police disclosed Tuesday.

Brown is head of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee.

The charge was filed in municipal court Aug. 1 But it was not made public until Tuesday when a Dayton Journal-Herald reporter who had been on vacation for two weeks found the charge while going through court records.

Brown faces another charge in Cambridge, Md., where a grand jury recently indicted him for inciting to riot as a result of that city's racial disturbances this summer.

Anyone convincted of violating the state criminal syndicalism statute--which prohibits advocating the necessity or propriety of crime, sabotage, violence or unlawful methods of terrorism as a means of accomplishing reform--faces a $5,000 fine and 1-10 years in prison.

Police said, however, Brown probably won't be served with the warrant unless he returns to Dayton. Brown has no known appearances scheduled here, but is due to speak in Cincinnati Saturday.

Police Chief Robert Igleburger said he learned only Tuesday that the charge had been filed against Brown. Igleburger, who assumed duties as police chief the day the charge was filed, noted, however, that such action had been discussed for some time.

Police Maj. Grover O'Conner, who was acting as captain of detectives at the time, said he filed the charge and that it will be presented to the grand jury soon.

When he was asked why it had not been announced earlier, the chief said, "we weren't thinking of executing the warrant outside the city."

Donald Hancock, second vice commander, reported on a family picnic held at Valley Park, with 500 present.

John Ruhe was appointed to the insurane board, Densel McKinney, commander, announced. Robert Poynter, financial officer, gave a general report.

Lunch was served 35 by a kitchen committee.

The next meeting will be Monday at 8 p. m.

Westinghouse Plans New A-Power Facility

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Westinghouse Electric Corp. has announced plans to construct a facility to house its atomic power operations.

Plans announced Tuesday call for construction on 200 acres in nearby Monroeville. No manufacturing will be performed.

The headquarters will be ready by 1970 with initial employment of 1,500, the company said. The center is part of a $370 million expansion program.

Missionary Society Will Meet Thursday

HAMMONDSVILLE — The Grants Hill United Presbyterian Church Missionary Society will meet Thursday night in the church.

Mrs. Mary Baker will be in charge of the lesson study.

A wiener roast on the lawn will follow the meeting.

Protests To Reds

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP) — The U.N. Command protested to communist North Korea today against the ambush of a U.S. Army truck south of Korea's demilitarized zone last Thursday which killed three American soldiers.

Attacked by an enemy, many animals flee in a very erratic way, zigzagging, wildly bouncing or even spinning. Zoologists believe this behavior disorients the predator's attack and aids escape.

W.Va. October Draft Call Trimmed To 161

CHARLESTON (AP) — West Virginia's draft quota for October has been trimmed to 161, which is 60 less than the call for September, Brig. Gen. Gene H. Williams said today.

Williams, the state adjutant general and state Selective Service director, said the lower West Virginia call reflects a national trend. He said the national October call is for 17,000 men, the lowest quota in six months.

The Army national call in September was for 25,000 men, he said.

Junior Editors Quiz on SUN'S RAYS

QUESTION: Why do our skins tan in the Summer Sun?

ANSWER: Part of the light rays coming from the sun are the invisible group called ultraviolet rays. It is only a fraction of these that affect or change our skin. Even if you can't see such rays, your skin feels them most definitely. Fifteen minutes of exposing an untanned skin to bright sunlight will cause tan to start forming. Twenty minutes may cause sunburn.

Look at the diagram. In the outermost of the skin's two layers, the epidermis, are networks of special cells called melanocytes. These can produce particles of the brownish pigment melanin. When the ultraviolet rays pour down, this starts the melanocytes working and the melanin they turn out (right) makes the skin tan. Melanin absorbs the ultraviolet rays, and so tan is a protection — up to a point. If you stay in the sun too long, a chemical is released which works down into the skin's lower level and makes the blood vessels swell. Your skin then gets red and uncomfortable. A light sunburn willl do little damage but too much may cause great discomfort and even serious illness.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I remove fish slime from fabrics?

A.—This is a concentrated albumen stain and can be difficult to remove, impossible on certain resin-treated or sized fabrics. Soak the stained area immediately in a pan containing a solution of water with neutral detergent and about a spoonful of salt. Soak about 10 minutes, and flex slightly between the fingers or tamp with a brush. Rinse in plain cold water. Should a stain still remain, further home treatment is not advisable. Send them to a dry cleaner, being sure to identify the stain.

Q.—How can I clean shellacked wood floors?

A.—These must be kept scrupulously clean, or spilled water will leave white spots and blotches. Wipe up immediately if water is spilled. If soiled, clean with a cloth moistened with alcohol, or with a mixture of turpentine and alcohol (equal parts). Rub lightly, or you might take up the shellac.

Q.—How can I clean casserols that have burnt stains in them?

A.—Soak them in a little baking soda and cold water to fill the dish, let stand awhile, and the stains should then be easily removable.

Q.—How can I remove shoeleather stains from light-colored hose?

A.—A tablespoon of borax added to your washing water should help considerably.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: There are many theories on why women live longer than men. The scientific reason makes sense, but I would like to discuss what I feel is No. 1. MEN WON'T GO TO A DOCTOR.

Most women have babies, which means they must see a doctor from time to time, so they become accustomed to doctors and checkups. If a woman notices a danger signal she will go find out what it means.

Most men are afraid of doctors and will not go to one unless they become very sick. Often, by that time, it is too late.

My own husband (age 45) never went to a doctor in his life. He had a physical before he went into the Army and that was it.

Two years ago he got it into his head that he had heart trouble. He started to drink, lost weight, couldn't sleep. He got so nervous it began to affect his work.

Finally I dragged him to a doctor. He was checked from head to toe and the doctor said he was in very good physical condition and his heart was perfect, but he was run down from worrying about the heart trouble he didn't have.

That was three weeks ago and my husband is like a new man. He said he could kick himself for behaving like a fool.

Please print my letter for wives who have this problem. Maybe if they show this to their husbands it will get them to go to a doctor and stave off widowhood for 10 or 20 years. — MERCED, CALIF.

-:-

Dear Merced: Here's your letter—and a very good one it is. I hope the men who recognize themselves will get going and do something about it. Every husband owes it to his family to get an annual checkup. The time and inconvenience is a small price to pay for better health and added years of life.

Trial Offer

Dear Ann: I'm 23, have a good job, and everyone says I have good sense. Several months ago I started to date a man who is divorced and I'm pretty sure we are in love.

Last week he asked me to marry him, but because of his first bad experience he does not wish to take any more chances. He feels we should live together a few months to see how we get along under domestic circumstances.

He wants to see if I'm a good cook and housekeeper, how I behave in the morning, and what my night habits are.

He says he is almost sure I will pass the test, but he wants to make certain. If I refuse to go along with his proposal, I might lose him. Yet if I agree he may tire of me and not marry me after all.

Please give me some practical advice, Ann. I want to marry this man. — 2 B OR NOT 2 B.

Dear B.: If you want to offer yourself for a 90-day free trial, like a vacuum cleaner, go ahead, but don't expect it to enhance your chances for marriage. If anything, it will diminish them.

Your proposal is not really a proposal. It's a proposition, Dummy.

Confidentially

To Miffed A. Plenty: Put your nose back in joint, Kiddo. This country has been pretty darned good to you. What have you done to improve the situation you find fault with?

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Columbus Man Named Head Of News Media

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Wil Kilburger of the Columbus Dispatch has been elected president of the Mid-American Conference News Media Association.

His election came Tuesday night at the conference's annual two-day football preview.

Joe Tait of WOUB, the Ohio University radio station at Athens, was named the vice president and Frank Morgan, sports information director of Ohio University, was named secretary-treasurer.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures Thursday through Monday will average below normal, with highs in the upper 70s in most sections. Lows are expected to be mostly in the 50s. Cool temperatures will be widespread on the weekend. Scattered showers are forecast for the latter part of this week, with rainfall averaging one inch.

Beaver County Has Decline In Employment Registration

The number of persons who registered for employment in July decreased 63 per cent over the previous month, according to Mrs. Barbara J. Schuster, manager of the Beaver Falls Bureau of Employment Security. The decrease was due to fewer high school and college students applying for work, she said.

The number of job openings received and number of persons placed in jobs also decreased. This was primarily due to a decline in hiring by local firms. Lack of orders, vacation shutdowns are the primary reason for this decline.

Jobs were found for 94 persons in July. There were 54 females, 8 were handicapped, 38 were under 22 years of age and 17 were over 45.

The active file showed an 80 per cent decrease over the previous month. The file contains 1,739 applications of which 872 are females, 310 veterans and 235 handicapped.

In order to promote jobs Mrs. Schuster's professional staff made 102 visits, 80 promotional telephone contacts and 32 job developments to local employers.

A total of 972 new claims were filed. This decreased by 80 per cent over the previous month. The decrease was contributed to recall in the iron and steel industry and termination of work stoppages in the construction industry. Weeks claimed increased approximately 86 per cent over the previous month.

Twelve youths left for summer employment at Hartford, Conn., to work on tobacco farms.

The next practical nurses training class is tentatively to start Sept. 18. The nurses aid training program, under the Manpower Development and Training Act, is scheduled to start Aug. 21. There will be three additional classes for nurses aids. Anyone interested in either of these two fields should visit the office immediately.

60 Attend Outing

Vacation Trip Ends Tragically For Family

CINCINNATI (AP)—A vacation trip to Dale Hollow Lake near Livingston, Tenn., ended tragically for the William Schmidt family of Cincinnati.

Overton County, Tenn. authorities said Mrs. Zeta M. Schmidt, 26, drowned Tuesday when the canoe in which she was riding upset. Her husband, who had been swimming nearby, managed to rescue the couple's 3-year-old daughter.
